A Letter from Pastor Bo

November – Hope Amidst the Shaking

“The present form of this world is passing away,” Paul tells the Corinthians (1 Cor. 7.31). God is bringing the kingdom about, and the world is in turmoil with uncertainty about what is next. This is nothing new. Another thing that is not new is that God’s people of faith, though we may be uncertain about exactly what will happen tomorrow or next year, we walk with the stability of hope, because we know who holds the future, and we know what we must do in the present: acquire wisdom, pray, love God, love each other. love our neighbor, and walk in the light. This is our hope amidst the shaking, our shelter from the storm.

The readings in November All Saints Sunday to the First Sunday of Advent highlight this theme. Even Reformation Sunday (October 30th) will prepare us as we sing “A Mighty Fortress is our God.” November 6th will give us hints of the age to come in Luke, but Paul warns us that there are troubles ahead, with Job encourage us that we will see our Redeemer standing on the earth. November 13th gives us more details about the shaking that can happen to our most beloved institutions, but we possess a greater value within us, to which we must hold on. November 20th – Christ is crowned king – on a cross. And from that exalted throne come forgiveness, assurances, and new life for all. November 27th begins Advent, where Jesus tells us to be ready for the Lord’ coming, and Paul describes that readiness as laying aside the works of darkness and putting on the armor of light.

To highlight this theme, I will introduce you to a friend of mine on November 13th. His name is Issa Odeh, and some of his family members will be with him. He is a Palestinian Catholic Christian and the lineage of his family living in the Holy Land and also practicing the Christian faith goes back to the very beginning. Issa and his family have been granted asylum to live in the United States. As Palestinian and Christian, they faced difficulties from both sides of the Israel-Palestine conflict. Their journey has been one of “hope amidst the shaking.” I love these people. They are warm and full of joy and goodness.

One way the Odeh family supports themselves is by selling goods made of olive wood from the Holy Land. These are beautiful and make for good Christmas gifts. If you have ever been in my office and seen the Lord’s Prayer on a beautiful string of planks in the shape of a cross, this is from the Odeh family. They will be selling them that day after church, so go check out their wares and buy some presents for your loved ones!

Food Pantry September Report

September saw several momentous events happen. We started and have now completed our campaign to bolster the air conditioning in the pantry and to install additional air conditioning in the adjacent storage area housing refrigerators and freezers. Fundraising to pay for this addition has been successful. Fundraising actually generated more funds than were necessary and we are going to start a maintenance fund. We are immensely grateful for the support we received and continue to receive.

The HATPacks leadership team has decided to step away from the pantry and focus on their mission of providing meals on non-school days for the Hatboro-Horsham School District students. The new pantry leadership team is made up of folks who have been involved in the pantry operation for a long time.

Pantry usage remains strong; we served 365 clients in September 2022.

We are also already thinking ahead to the holidays. We have a plan in place for Thanksgiving with the emphasis on gift cards in $30 amounts to Grocery Outlet. We will be distributing Thanksgiving items the week of November 15.

So we close this report with a huge “thank you” to HATPacks for their ability to keep the pantry operating, a prayer that we of the new leadership team may be equally adept and a prayer of thanks for our faithful supporters.

Food Pantry Current Need

We are in need of donations as well! We are currently looking for non-perishable items, especially:

- canned goods
- pastas
- cereals
- soups

and toiletries:

- soap
- toothbrushes/toothpaste
- shampoo/conditioner
- etc.

As always, we appreciate all of your help!

All Saints Day

For All Saints Sunday (November 6) we want to formally remember all loved ones that have passed since November 2021. We would like all members of the church to bring a picture of anyone that has passed that they would like remembered to place on our glass windows in the front of the church. Bring a picture between now and November 6 and tape it to the windows. Let's fill up the entire front of the church with remembrances of loved ones that have passed.
