Greece, NY – Dark Matter Scream Works has unveiled its newest haunted attraction, House of Krampus. This new sinister holiday themed walk through will debut this fall when Dark Matter Scream Works opens its doors for the 10th season on Friday September 17th. This further expands Rochester's largest indoor scream park. Dark Matter Scream Works is located above Burlington at the Mall at Greece Ridge.

"No one else in Rochester has 5 distinct separate haunted houses."

Voted number one in Rochester multiple times and recently voted number one in western New York, Dark Matter Scream Works has a reputation to keep up. Expanding to include a holiday horror themed attraction based on the folk lore of Krampus. Visitors will get to navigate the winding Bavarian Tudor themed maze. The feeling of Krampus stalking you grows as you visit various holiday themed sets within. Creatures, monsters, and nightmarish entities taunt and scare passing customers on their way to face Krampus himself.

"All those fond holiday memories are being rewritten into nightmares."

Krampus is a horned anthropomorphic monster and the metaphoric shadow of Santa Claus. He lurks in the dark waiting to capture naughty children and beat them with sticks and clubs. He rose to popularity due to a revival of the folk tales in northern Europe and multiple Hollywood movies about the creature.

Dark Matter Scream Works is a family owned and operated haunted attraction business that started in a Henrietta garage and has outgrown many locations since. Years of passion, innovation, sweat, blood, and tears have helped grow Dark Matter Scream Works into one of the premier haunted attractions in Western New York and to the top of Rochester's haunted ranks. Dark Matter Scream Works contains five differently themed haunted houses, Blood Manor, Contagion, Circus of the Damned, Phobias, and House of Krampus. Each with a unique theme and set design. Twenty-twenty-one marks the tenth anniversary of Dark Matter Scream Works.
