

Where's Craig?

Where's Craig?

A question regularly asked around church these days.

Craig Whittaker was terminated without cause by the CBC Board of Directors

The Board of Directors at CBC has decided to transition our church towards a new model that better aligns with their future vision.

The Board of Directors terminated Craig Whittaker without cause on January 21. Prior to his termination the Board put Craig on a two week leave without explanation. Craig has faithfully poured himself into our church for 50 years, doing his life's work putting people in touch with God.

By the CBC Board

The Board has created and voted to approve a new structure, new model, new direction, and new vision for CBC without discussing or gaining input from all the CBC pastors and leadership

Bruce Jordan, Chairman of the CBC Board sent an email via Matt Whitlock to the Staff and Spiritual Leaders on January 8th.

This email is the first time many of the Pastors, Staff, and Spiritual Leaders were notified about these drastic changes to our church, after the board had already voted in November to approve the changes.

Staff has resigned

The Staff that has resigned includes people who have served CBC for decades. They have left due to the heartbreaking way that the Board has terminated Craig and they are concerned about the Board's actions and the future of our church.

This includes:

- Marc Seal – Lead Guitarist at CBC for 31 years
- Lori Smith – Payroll and Human Resources Administrator at CBC for 20 years
- Jennifer Chapman – Accounting Director and Lead Pastor Assistant at CBC for 14 years resigned
