Make Your Outdoor Space A Year-Round Getaway

The louvered roof is an elegant and unique patio & deck cover that can open to let in sunlight and close to provide shade and weather protection.

Remote controlled and/or hardwired switch motor operation, as well as optional in-home wall remote.

Retractable sun/insect screens can be installed for additional protection and comfort.

As outdoor living has become more popular, products have been developed to make spending time outside more enjoyable. Retractable awnings provide great shade, but poor durability. Traditional wood pergolas are more durable, but not all-weather. Porch roofs are exceptionally durable, but block too much light.

The louvered pergola roof was designed to allow for shade when you need it and sunlight when you don't; protection from the elements or refreshing airflow; and great durability.
