

SYKES' REGULARS

REPORTER

1ST BATTALION 20TH INFANTRY

Volume 2, No. 32

LZ LIZ, VIETNAM

29 November, 1970

SOLDIERS IN RVN MAY BE GRANTED XMAS LEAVE

The U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam (MACV) has announced a new leave policy which will allow eligible servicemen to travel to the continental United States for Christmas.

Effective now, soldiers serving in RVN may be granted up to 14 days of leave in the U.S. according to the announcement.

Servicemen meeting eligibility standards will be flown free on military transportation or charter airplanes on a "space available basis". To qualify, you must have served at least four months in RVN, but not more than eight. You must already have bought--at your own expense--a return trip ticket before beginning your leave. You must also receive the approval of your unit commander.

Holiday leave granted servicemen under the new policy will be counted as normal leave. Those interested must contact their Company Commander or First Sergeant.

*****

STAY BEHIND AMBUSH

CONNECTS FOR CO C

A stay-behind day ambush composed of ten men from the third platoon of Charlie Company and three interpreters killed a VC guerrilla in the 515 Valley.

After the company swept a section of the valley, the Company Commander, CPT James J. Donovan (South Orange, N.J.) decided to leave a squad in the area to intercept enemy soldiers who he suspected of having remained hidden. Only three hours after the main element departed to LZ LIZ, his surprise tactic (CONT. Pg 6) advisor, Maj. Albert Witt, coordinated a tactical plan with Mo Duc's District Chief, CPT Cu', devised to obtain enemy information quickly once the operation began.

U.S. and South Vietnamese intelligence teams were deployed into the enemy area along with the combined infantry units. Their mission was to eliminate previously experienced delays in relaying enemy information to working units. LTC Lynch felt that a faster interrogation system would result in highly fruitful operations. On it's first launch, his new procedure enabled the allied force to engage the enemy before they could evade because it sustained the momentum of the operation.

Alpha Company initiated the action by killing four members of a VC patrol the night before the operation began. At dawn, Bravo Company and Recon reached their designated locations to seal the area. Mo Duc Commandoes, Phuong Hoang intelligence personnel and the 103rd Regional Forces (RF) Platoon joined Alpha Company and split into three sweeping elements.

In the first two hours, 35 detainees were thoroughly screened by the combined intel-- (CONT. Pg 7)

COMBINED SWEEP OPERATION

CRACKS VC INFRASTRUCTURE

Using a fast-action technique, a sweeping operation conducted by South Vietnamese units and U.S. ground and intelligence personnel from the 1st Bn., 20th Inf. recently killed 17 and detained 52 VC in Quang Ngai Province.

The technique blossomed after the 24th Corp issued a directive to crack an enemy stronghold supposedly located in the eastern Mo Duc District. The Battalion Commander, LTC Gordon P. Lynch, and the District Senior Ad-

BATTALION WELCOMES NEW EXECUTIVE OFFICER, MAJ. BANKS

"Sykes' Regulars" wish to extend a warm welcome to the battalion's new Executive Officer, Major Larry C. Banks, who recently assumed the position after the departure of Major William T. Honjiyo.

Major Banks is a native of Brunswick, Georgia. His wife Mary Ann and their two children Christopher and Stephanie, aged eight and four respectively, currently reside in Atlanta. He graduated from North Georgia College in June of 1961 with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and received his Army commission through the Reserve Officers Training Corp (ROTC) upon graduation. He later went on to graduate from the Field Artillery Officers Advance Course at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

This is Major Banks' second tour in Vietnam. During his first tour, he was a Battery Commander in the 8th Target Acquisition Battalion, 25th Artillery at Binh Hoa.

"This is my first assignment with an infantry unit," Major Banks said. "I feel it will be very good for my career. I am excited about it and looking forward to my stay."

*****

Richard Roberts (Elmira, N.Y.) won second place honors by compiling 459 points. He barely edged SGT Ray Gort (Westchester, N.Y.) who took third place with 458 points. Not far behind was SGT Richard Combs (Louisville, Ky.) who netted the sixth place slot in the class composed of 23 men.

The men applied themselves in various courses emphasizing techniques in map reading, Vietnamese relations, artillery adjustment, leadership and Ranger techniques, which included repelling from a 60-foot tower. The men agreed that the instructions on artillery adjustment were the most interesting and that repelling off the tower was the most thrilling aspect of the course.

Brigadier General Theodore Mataxis, the current Asst. Americal Division Commander in charge of maneuvers and former "Sykes' Regulars" Platoon Leader in WW II, had an extra wide grin as he greeted LTC Gordon P. Lynch at the graduation ceremony. It was the first time in the history of the course that the top three graduates came from the same battalion.

For their efforts, Roberts, Cipriano and Gort each received the Army Commandation Medal for meritorious achievement. In addition, they also receive a three-day pass to China Beach in Da Nang.

"Sykes' Regulars" REPORTER wishes to extend it's sincere congratulations to these four men for bestowing the honors upon the battalion.

*****

TEST NEW REPELLENT

The Army is developing an insect repellent that will not wash off the first time soldiers work up a sweat.

Unlike the present repellent, the new type could give protection for days.

FOUR 1/20 MEN

GET TOP HONORS

AT RECON SCHOOL

Three New Yorkers and a Kentuckian from "Sykes' Regulars" Recon Platoon recently made an excellent showing for our battalion at the two week Reconnaissance School in Chu Lai by capturing the first, second, third and sixth positions on graduation day.

Competition for first place was extremely high, but PFC Richard Roberts (Elmira, N.Y.) managed to stay at the head of the class by scoring 464 points out of a possible 500.

SGT Rocco Cipriano (Yonkers, N.Y.) won second place honors by compiling 459 points. He barely edged SGT Ray Gort (Westchester, N.Y.) who took third place with 458 points. Not far behind was SGT Richard Combs (Louisville, Ky.) who netted the sixth place slot in the class composed

"Hey, Sarge! Guess what I flushed out of that cave!"

ALPHA COMPANY'S THIRD PLATOON

STOPS VC PATROL ON GAZA STRIP

A VC patrol recently lost five members on the Gaza Strip 12 miles north of Duc Tho when they picked an excellent Night Defensive Position (NDP) that was already occupied by Alpha Company's third platoon.

After dusk, the U.S. soldiers selected an NDP on a large mound 60 meters from the South China Sea which was covered with trees and brush. The elevated position not only provided good concealment, but also allowed surveillance of the extensive beach area. The men were waiting for guard to begin when PFC Mike Carretti (Gary, Ind.) spotted a 12-man patrol walking along the shoreline. He alerted PFC Milton "Short Round" Coston who immediately informed his comrades about the approach.

"They were about 400 meters away when we started watching them," said SP4 Ron Schrader (Stevens Point, Wis.). "There were flareships and helicopters patrolling the beach and everytime they shot illumination or passed by, the patrol would squat down like they were hiding."

"Somebody said that they could be a friendly unit so we couldn't take the chance and shoot," said PFC Jim Crawford (Port Gibson, N.Y.). "Then, they stopped about 150 meters from our position and three men started walking toward the mound as if they were going to check it out. Undoubtedly they wanted to use it for an NDP because it is a good spot."

One of the soldiers walked to within 20 meters of the position where PFC Ron Bunnell (St. Joseph, Mich.), PFC Frank Schurich (Lafayette, N.J.) and PFC Crawford were waiting. They commenced fire and killed the insurgent when they spotted the M 47 rifle he was carrying.

The other members of the third platoon began firing at the main element of the VC patrol, but the initial fire directed at the pointman near the mound gave them time to seek cover behind a small knoll. After prepping the enemy's location with small arms fire, the U.S. soldiers split into two elements to assault the hill. One squad took a direct route using an on-line formation while the others maneuvered to the right. When the men began their advance, the VC guerrillas attempted to escape along the beach.

The men pursued the enemy soldiers and followed signs which revealed that some of the VC were wounded. "We followed the trail for about 500 meters until it led to the shore," said Bunnell. "We assumed that they dragged two bodies into the water to hide them."

The men continued the search and detained a VC 50 meters from the location where the drag marks entered the water. The insurgent had attempted to partially bury himself in the sand, but was easily detected by the entire platoon.

Moving 300 meters further, Bunnell and Schurich spotted an old sampan on the beach roughly 100 meters from the water. "When we were 20 meters away," explained Bunnell, "I saw a backpack next to the boat." "I guessed that it was booby-trapped so we stayed clear of it. We each circled around one side of the sampan and it was then that I spotted a VC in a hole next to the pack. He popped up and tried to get a grenade out of the pack. I fired a few quick shots and dropped back."

The men fired several rounds at the hole to prevent the insurgent from using the grenade. During the barrage, one round hit and killed the guerrilla. Inside the hole the men found an M 47 and several Chicom grenades in the pack. "I can't figure out why he didn't use the rifle," Bunnell said. "It was sure lucky for me that he didn't! It must have been defective."

The platoon returned to the location of the original contact and found 30 Chicom grenades and other equipment inside the packs discarded by the VC when they fled.

The next time the third platoon finds an ideal NDP, they may not get four enemy KIA's, but it's certain that they'll keep an extra eye open to secure it from another VC patrol that might have ideas of sharing it with them.

1/20 ADDS COMPANY "Q" TO ROSTER AND REVIVES ARMY TRADITION

"Sykes' Regulars" Commanding Officer, LTC Gordon P. Lynch recently revived a century-old Army tradition by designating a special security detachment as "Q" Company.

The men of "Q" Company have been securing defense equipment on Hill 103, better known as "Get-Over Hill".

In a brief ceremony the 11th Brigade Commander, Col. John L. Insani presented an unofficial guidon to "Q" Company Commander 1LT Peter Zierden (Chicago, Ill.). The guidon consists of white crossed infantry rifles, white battalion numerals and a white letter "Q" on a field of blue. Col. Insani congratulated the men for their "fine work!"

LTC Lynch gave a brief historical background of "Q" Company. He explained that in the early 1800's men who were temporarily unfit for regular duty were utilized for special assignments such as guarding posts while their comrades went on maneuvers. They eventually were called "Q" Company.

"You won't find "Q" Company in any official Army records, but you will find accounts of it in the history books," LTC Lynch said. "No one knows," he added, "why or how the letter "Q" was chosen."

LTC Lynch reminded the men of their important mission of surveying the area near the Song Ve River. "We have to be hurting the enemy," he affirmed. "The very fact that the enemy probed the perimeter at least twice indicates that he is being hurt."

The men from "Q" Company represent every company in the battalion. 1LT Zierden asked them to think of an appropriate motto for the company before the designation ceremony began. PFC Hal Bookman (Syracuse, N.Y.) came up with one. "If you step in our wire, you'll step in our fire."

*****

PRESIDENT SIGNS NEW VETS LEGISLATION;

GI LOAN BENEFITS EXTENDED INDEFINITELY

A major piece of legislation designed to assist millions of veterans to buy homes of their own has been signed into law by President Nixon. One provision wipes out an ending date for GI loan benefits for all veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955. Benefits have been extended indefinitely to 8.9 million Korean and WW II servicemen.

Another provision offers a veteran a program to buy a mobile home. $10,000 will be loaned for a mobile home and up to $17,500 if he buys a lot to place it on.

A third authorizes VA to make direct loans in any part of the country to disabled veterans who are entitled to specially constructed housing.

The new program eliminates a VA funding of .5 per cent on guaranteed and direct home loans to veterans who served after 1955. It authorizes VA to guarantee loans to refinance existing mortgage loans or other liens on homes owned and occupied by veterans, and allows borrowers to pay lenders any required discounts. The guarantee may be for 60 per cent of the loan, or $12,500, whichever is less.

VA is also authorized to guarantee 60 per cent, or up to $12,500 of loans for veterans to purchase family units in condominium projects insured by the Federal Housing Agency.

It also eliminates January 31, 1975 as the terminal date for VA's direct loan program.

*****

"DID YOU KNOW THAT ?"

Big volcanic eruptions may affect the weather. When Tambora erupted in the East Indies in 1816, so much dust and ash were thrown into the atmosphere that it shaded out the sunshine producing "the year without a summer."

NEW G.I. BILL INCREASED
EDUCATION BENEFITS

ARE FOR YOU!

NEW "MODERN" ARMY ISSUES

1/20 THE LATEST FASHIONS

Now that Indian summer has ended with a splash, the men of "Sykes' Regulars" turn their attention to the latest fall fashions.

One of the most popular items this season is the monsoon sweater, also known in some supply rooms as the jungle sleeping garment. This durable, heavy duty pull over may be worn indoors or out. Available colors, in order of popularity, are: deep OD, OD and faded OD. Sizes range from too small to too big.

Another item in the well-dressed infantryman's wardrobe this autumn is rain pant. Referred to in the current issue of Gentleman's Quarterly as "Farmer Brown's", rain pants are an overall type garment designed to protect the legs and torso from showers. Two over-the-shoulder suspenders, with adjustable straps, insure individual fit. Another unusual feature is adhesive ankle straps that enable the wearer to avoid tripping over his own two feet. "Farmer Browns" come in a variety of colors including battle-ship grey, Duc Tho green and 515 brown.

Rain jackets compliment the Farmer Browns by enabling the wearer to don a stylish, matching set. The water-resistant rain jacket comes with permanently attached hood that keeps raindrops from falling on one's head. The light-weight jacket is not lined. Therefore, it may be worn even on sunny, crisp afternoons. The most popular colors are Blueleg green, Redleg brown and immersion foot grey.

Infantrymen in the forward fighting areas of Saigon, Cam Ranh Bay and Da Nang will have an opportunity to see these fashions modeled by a touring USO show. Other interested parties are urged to contact their nearest Supply Sergeant or refer to the Botany 500 and Brooks Brothers ads in the current Esquire Magazine.

SYKES' REGULARS REPORTER

The REPORTER is published bi-weekly under the supervision of the S-1, HHC, 1st Bn, 20th Inf, 11th Inf Bde, APO San Francisco 96217 as an authorized publication. Opinions expressed herein are not necessarily those of the Department of the Army. AFIS material is used.

Battalion Commander	LTC Gordon P. Lynch
Adjutant	1LT Jerry L. Brown
Correspondent	SGT Chuck Merdzinski

CHARLIE CO NABS

VC LEADER, NURSE

ON SWEEP IN 515

Squads from the first platoon of Charlie Company combined their efforts in the 515 Valley and nabbed an assistant VC Village Chief and a VC nurse.

The men were conducting a search and clear operation a mile east of LZ Liz at the time. The first and third squad were deployed as a blocking force while the second squad navigated through a small area containing several hamlets. As they began walking on a flooded path that paralleled a stream, a woman made a strange whistling noise.

Sensing that the whistle was a warning for enemy soldiers, S4 Carl McCafferty (Los Angeles, Cal.) and PFC Ken Kaufold (St. Louis, Mo.) detained the woman after a brief chase in the direction of a hamlet. When the squad advanced for a careful investigation, SGT Jesse Crank (Charleston, W. Va.) glanced to his left and spotted a man fleeing the area 50 meters away.

"He ran into a flooded rice paddy to hide, but we knew where he was and surrounded the area," said Crank. "He was submerged in the rice paddy and wouldn't surrender when I told him to come out."

"I fired a few shots near him to try and change his mind, but he still wouldn't budge," continued Crank.

Crank and PFC James Barefoot (Miami, Fla.) started to enter the rice paddy, but changed their mind because the insurgent seemed to be carrying a grenade. The platoon's Kit Carson Scout, H1, was called to the location and persuaded the guerrilla to surrender.

He revealed that he was an assistant VC Village Chief and that the woman was a VC nurse.

The second squad found several items of equipment in the VC's pack.

LOCAL SOLDIERS ENCOUNTER COBRA AT LZ BRONCO

Floodwater resulting from the recent monsoon downpour was instrumental in causing an encounter between two local soldiers and a cobra that was forced to the high ground of LZ Bronco to seek a temporary home.

The day after the five-day rain, SP4 Lane Brown (Lovell, Wyo) and PFC Jesus Rivera (Pontiac, Mich.) had delivered a load of weapons for repair at the 723rd Maintenance Battalion and were returning by jeep along the east side of the firebase, which was surrounded by water. They were casually speaking Spanish when they spotted a large serpent on the shoulder of the road near Sykes' Regulars' rifle zeroing range.

"It looked like a greyish-black rod or stick in the road at first," said Brown. "When we were about 50 feet away, it moved so we knew it was a snake. Rivera swerved the jeep and ran it over with both left wheels. Then, we stopped the jeep ten meters away to see if we got it."

"When we looked back," continued Brown, "we found out it was a cobra because he raised up about a foot and a half and expanded his head." "Then, the cobra snapped his body in our direction simulating an attack. I toyed with the idea of killing it so we could show everybody, but he crawled back into the thick knee-high grass before we could get a long club. We carefully walked over to see where he went, but the grass made it impossible to see him. Anyway, I think that his back was broken by the jeep and he probably won't live, I hope!"

Brown said that the cobra was roughly six feet long and about six inches in girth.

Cobras are relatively rare in this area. In fact, seeing a cobra anywhere is unusual because they instinctively avoid detection when a human is near. Other vipers are more sluggish in nature and more likely to be seen. The most renowned member of the cobra family is the king cobra found in India. These large serpents have been known to exceed 18 feet in length.

As interesting as a cobra's biography may be, lets hope we never get to know one as well as Brown and Rivera did.

*****

CHARLIE O) STAY BEHIND MEUSH continued.....

was instrumental in adding another enemy KIA to the battalion's record log.

The U.S. soldiers included in the operation were: SGT Syd Lincoln (Little Falls, Minn.), SP4 Robert Brown (Imperial Beach, Cal.), SP4 Tom Crum (Brea, Cal.), PFC Luke Fullankamp (St. Joseph, Ohio), SP4 Armond Medina (Crosbyton, Tex.), PFC Ken Smith (Danby, Pa.), PFC Steve Burris (Elgin, Ill.), PFC Harold "Moose" Watts (Madison, Tenn.), PFC Chris Walker and PFC Ellis Kelly, both from Nashville, Tennessee.

The men concealed themselves on both sides of a trail that led into a village. They waited for three hours with negative results and decided to try another location. As they moved eastward, two of the interpreters recognized three VC guerrillas who were dashing across an open area. During the pursuit, two of the insurgents escaped into the brush, but one was cornered in a deep trench blanketed with extremely thick overgrowth.

Some of the men positioned themselves at one end and attempted to persuade the guerrilla to surrender. SP4 Brown found a small opening in the middle of the trench and waited to intercept the enemy soldier if he attempted to escape.

"I saw the others yelling at one end and figured the VC might surrender," said Brown. "I saw a small opening in the brush covering the trench and went over to wait. I thought that there might have been more VC inside the trench besides the one we saw run in. Before long, I saw a VC coming my way and waited til he was right below me. He didn't know I was there and was surprised when I told him to halt. He just kept on going so I had to shoot."

The dead guerrilla was carrying a Chicom grenade. After a search of the area, the men found two VC rucksacks that had been dropped by the two insurgents who escaped. They contained two panchoes, food, equipment and supplies.

BIG DITCH NEAR HILL 103

HAS INTERESTING HISTORY

If you get assigned to "Q" Co., or if your pilot flies over Hill 103, you'll notice it right away. You just can't miss anything that big.

Encircling three quarters of the hilltop is a fantastically large ditch. It measures approximately 20 feet across and 15 feet deep. Its origins are as mysterious as those of Stonehedge.

Some say the French dug the ditch as a defensive position when they occupied the hill. The French were later overrun, these same sources say. Others claim the ARVN's lost 100 men when the enemy took the hill, according to a amateur historians, and that they dug the ditch.

A third school of thought maintains that the ditch is actually the unfinished foundation of a huge castle that a rich Vietnamese planned to build many years ago.

*****

COMBINED SWEEP OPERATION continued.....

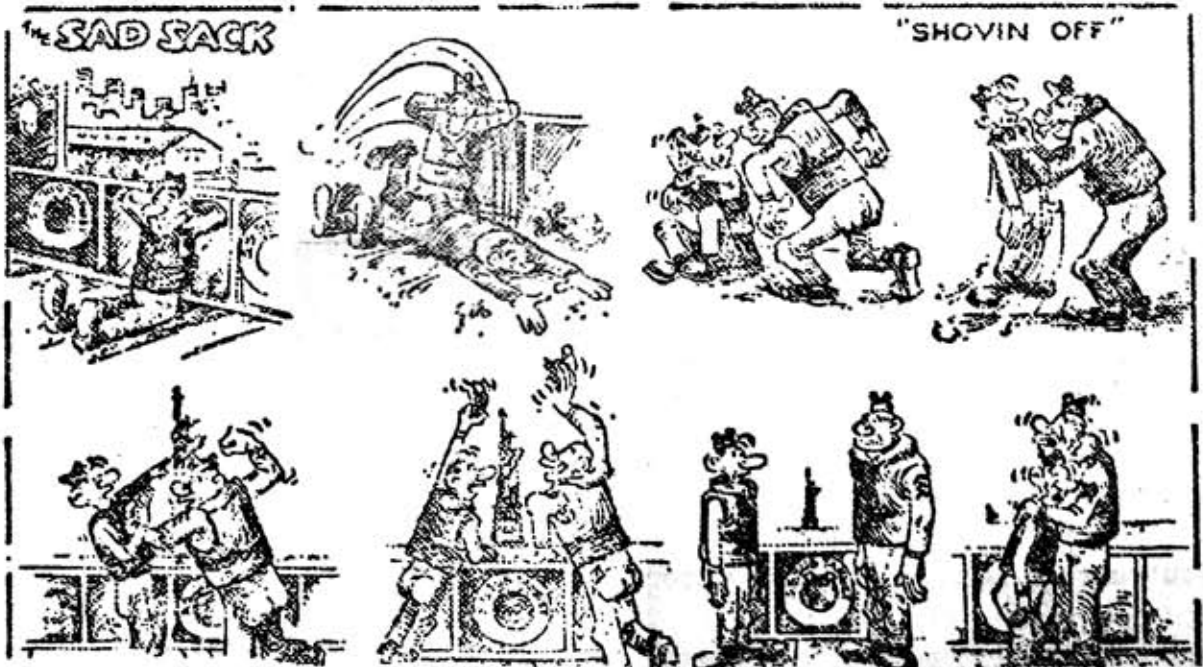

ligent teams. Two detainees from this group divulged information that led to the detention of 27 hardcore guerrillas. The number of confirmed VC detained reached a total of 51 and includes enemy cadre members extending from village to regional levels.

Alpha Company is credited with nine enemy KIA's followed by Bravo Company with five. Regional Forces soldiers killed one VC while Shark gunships eliminated two. Four AK47 rifles, one automatic rifle, an M1 carbine, a .38 caliber pistol and over 30 Chicom grenades are included among the items secured during the operation.

"The operation broke up the VC infrastructure in the Duc Luong village area," said CPT Charles Garefino, the Battalion Intelligence Officer. "It was one of the finest operations that I have ever seen."

This operation stands as a hallmark not only for Vietnamese-U.S. cooperation, but also of notable professionalism and enthusiasm never seen before in Mo Duc," said LTC Lynch. "Results, while gratifying, indicate a further common endeavor that will free Mo Duc from the grip of Communist terrorism."

*****

"CHAPLAIN'S CORNER"

BY CHAPLAIN MERLE D. BROWN

General Dwight D. Eisenhower was convinced that free government was based upon the of faith in God.

It is recorded that Ike prayed on the night of the invasion of Sicily. He knew that the outcome was out of his hands.

Millions of television and radio listeners sat upright in January 1953, when President Eisenhower inaugurated his first term of office by leading the nation in prayer.

"Give us," he prayed, "the power to discern clearly right and wrong and allow our words and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of the land. Especially we pray that our concern shall be for all the people regardless of station, race or calling. May cooperation be permitted and be the mutual aim.....so that all may work for the good of our beloved country and the glory. Amen."

Ike saw the battle of faith as one against materialism and the self-centeredness of human nature. If one is not confident and Spirit-filled in his approach, he will never carry the day for God. "No pessimist ever won a battle," he said.

The existence of a merciful God who forgives those who come to him humbly; the reality of the truth recorded by John, "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

General Eisenhower's answer on matters of faith and belief went something like this:
"It takes no brains to be an atheist. Any stupid person can deny the existence of a supernatural power because man's physical senses cannot detect it. But there cannot be ignored the influence of conscious, the respect we feel for moral law, the mystery of first life on what once must have been a molten mass, or the marvelous order in which the universe moves about us on this earth. All these evidence the handiwork of a beneficent Deity. For my part, that Deity is the God of the Bible and of Christ,
His Son."

There it is! Are we open minded enough to follow the example of faith?

* NOTE: If you want more Christmas cards, there are still some available on a first come basis. See Chaplain Brown or your 1Sgt.

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY

--To love someone is to bid him to live!

--Dare to be happy, don't be afraid; this is the day that the Lord made.

--When you're real lonely, peanut butter sticks to the roof of your mouth.
(Charlie Brown)

--It is no small thing to believe.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Answers on Page —

- ACROSS
- 1-Footlike part
  - 4-Cooling
  - 9-Greek letter
  - 12-Mohammedan name
  - 13-Caudal appendages
  - 14-Scak
  - 15-Season
  - 17-Aquatic mammals
  - 19-Precious stone
  - 20-Equals
  - 21-Unlock
  - 23-River in Italy
  - 24-Ceremonias
  - 27-Equality
  - 28-Hurl
  - 30-Civil injury
  - 31-Teutonic deity
  - 32-Characteristic bearing
  - 34-Sun god
  - 35-Ascend
  - 37-Abound
  - 38-Drumhead
  - 39-Showy flower
  - 41-Football position (abbr.)
  - 42-Weary
  - 43-Man's name
  - 45-Man's nickname
  - 46-Modest
  - 48-Earlier
  - 51-Lubricate
  - 52-Muse of poetry
  - 54-Period of time
  - 55-Affirmative
  - 56-Pertaining to the sun
  - 57-Corded cloth

- DOWN
- 1-Animal's foot
  - 2-Man's name
  - 3-Warbler
  - 4-Stalk
  - 5-Organ of hearing
  - 6-Symbol for nickel
  - 7-Plumlike fruit
  - 8-Chemical compound
  - 9-Magician's word
  - 10-Weight of India
  - 11-Possessive pronoun
  - 16-Number
  - 18-Commonplace
  - 20-Billboards
  - 21-Musical drama
  - 22-European capital
  - 23-Station
  - 25-Mistake
  - 25-Commonwealth
  - 28-Preposition
  - 29-Fat around kidneys
  - 32-Skins
  - 33-Room (abbr.)
  - 35-Takes unlawfully
  - 38-Transgressor
  - 40-Ceremonies
  - 42-Also
  - 44-Danish Island
  - 49-Entrance
  - 46-Timid
  - 47-Mastern
  - 48-Music: as written
  - 49-Before
  - 50-Knock
  - 53-Man's nickname

Dist. by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. 1959

For Use in Authorized Service Newspapers Only.

1. Names the largest stadium in the United States.
  2. Which pro football team had the best 1969 regular season record?
  3. Which NFL team led pro football in scoring in 1969?
  4. Which NFL team allowed the fewest points in 1969?
  5. Fred Cox of the Vikings set a record in the opening game of 1970. What is the record?
  6. What is the all-time record for passing yardage for a quarterback in one game?
  7. Who holds the all-time life-time record for pass receptions.
  8. Who holds the all-time life-time record for rushing in pro football?
  9. What team won the 1970 All-Star football game in 1970?
  10. Who holds the all-time record for "runs-batted-in" in one season?
  11. Name two pro football teams that played in Ivy League stadiums this year.
  12. Who holds the all-time record for most times at bat in a season?
  13. Who was the last player in the majors to amass 3000 base hits?
  14. Who holds the record for most hits in a season?
  15. Who holds the National League record for pinch hits in a season?
- *****

"ANSWERS"

1. The Rose Bowl, Pasadena, California; 101,385 seating capacity.
2. The Oakland Raiders with a 12-1-1 record.
3. The Minnesota Vikings scored 379 points, an average of 27 points per game.
4. The Minnesota Vikings again, allowed only 133 pts. averaged to less than 10 per game.
5. It was the 20th consecutive game he kicked a field goal.
6. 554 yds.—N. Vandrocklin
7. Ray Berry with 631
8. Jim Brown with 12,312 yds. in 9 seasons.
9. The Kansas City Chiefs
10. Hack Wilson, Cubs with 190 RBI's in 1930.
11. Philadelphia Eagles and the Boston Patriots.
12. Matty Alou, 698 in 1969
13. Willie Mays
14. George Sisler, St. Louis Browns, 257 hits, 1920.
15. Vic Davalillo, Cardinals, with 23 pinch hits