2nd Annual Country, Folk'n'Bluegrass with a smoking side of Southern soul food returns to Kentish Town

London, 24 October 2022 - Dots Music Shop and Blue Plate Special Supper Club present an evening of down-home, Southern cooking and Americana music taking place at MAP Studio Cafe on Friday 25 November 2022, and featuring live music by The Handlers, Camden's own premier country band.

"Music for incorrigible grownups"

Blue Plate Special Supper Club are hosting a second annual boot scootin' evening featuring another fine performance by Camden's own country, folk 'n' bluegrass band, The Handlers.

The Handlers, fronted by Southern-born singer-songwriter and Camden business owner, Miss Virgie Lynne (vocals, guitar and vintage suitcase-turned-drum) features Corrado (Papa Bad) Cecere on bass, guitar and vocals, Camden luthier Jonathan Derbyshire (fiddle, mandolin, vocals) and fellow American Madi Solomon, owner of renowned Camden institution, Dots Music Shop, playing everything else that ain't tied down.

Highlights of the evening include their bluesy rendition of 'Rocket Man' and tongue-in-cheek original tunes you'll swear you've heard before such as 'What If I Don't Like You When I'm Sober' (written during lockdown, ha!) 'Redneck Feminist' (kinda says it's all) and their latest single, 'Marvin', a true-crime tale of a would-be serial killer, streaming now on all the usual music platforms.

The evenings menu will feature authentic Southern recipes from Miss Virgie Lynne's mama, Miss Pearl's, kitchen.
