

CHRISTOLOGY

CHRIST - center - key point of universal reference – who leads and is himself the only thing necessary - the only thing that really matters - the most human and the most divine – convergence where everything worth living converges, realizing that one lives.

LOGIC: Science that teaches to reason with accuracy. Particular way of reasoning

CHRISTOLOGY: THE LOGIC OF CHRIST:

The logic that diffuses and energizes (clarifies and mobilizes, guides, gives meaning to) the Lord's Prayer and the Beatitudes, that always open the path for the person who faces the reality of living, placing him in the direction of the "what", which for oneself is the most appropriate, the one that fills him the most, that which he is searching for without knowing it, the only one that can keep filling him without calming the desire for happiness, peace and joy that keeps him on his toes, awake and active.

The person who acts as a person, who has and uses his conviction, his decision and his constancy, in a converging manner by the fact of living and trying to live with rectitude, deepening with faith asked for and grateful for, with firm decision and lucid constancy, finds himself in the realm of the "what", in which one can live without pressures that are always annoying and tiresome.

Normally, people who live, without realizing that they live, live in the realm of the "how".

They need to discover that there is a way to focus facts, things and events with the eyes of God, meaning from His vision, His viewpoint and His perspective.
