

WHEN THE CHANCES OF LIFE

Cuando los azares de la vida nos lanzan hacia las cuerdas de una circunstancia extrema, o un se siente de espaldas, vuelto hacia la tierra porque la lucha ha sido dura y porque a pesar del esfuerzo, del coraje y hasta de la lógica con que planeamos el combate, no se ha podido vencer, siempre existe una salida, que es una entrada, o mejor dicho un entrar en uno mismo, para ir descubriendo posibilidades latentes, que, como la buena tierra sin cultivar, esta pidiendo una mano amiga que disponga lo preciso para que tanta semilla pequeña, se vuelva frondoso árbol.

When the chances of life launch us toward the chords of an extreme circumstance, or that feeling of being on your back, turn around back toward Earth because the challenge has been hard and because despite the efforts, of courage and even the logic with which we carefully planned the battle, it has not been defeated, there is always an exit, which is an entry way, or better yet it is an entry into oneself, to continue on discovering the dormant possibilities, that, like any good soil that has not been cultivated, is losing a friendly hand that make available what is precise so that each small seed will become a leafy tree.

Mostrar con la vida que la vida tiene sentido y sentirse llamado a hacerlo saber viviéndolo en cada detalle concreto. To demonstrate with life itself that life has meaning and feeling called to make it known by living it in every concrete detail.

Quisiéramos contribuir a la tarea que más puede beneficiar a más gente. We would like to contribute to the task that would most benefit people.

(please delete black text upon final edit/review)