TEAD DACED DAINT, (Amplion	to dwellings built before 1978)

(B) New Jersey Lead-Based Paint Inspection Law Acknowledgment.

Landlord acknowledges that, effective July 22, 2022, all rental dwelling units built before 1978 required to be inspected pursuant to the New Jersey Lead-Based Paint Inspection Law, N.J.S.A. 52:27D-437.16, et seq., must be inspected for lead-based paint by July 22, 2024, or upon tenant turnover, whichever is earlier (note: there are several exemptions, including but not limited to seasonal rentals that are rented for less than six (6) months duration each year by tenants that do not have consecutive lease renewals). The law imposes an obligation on municipalities to perform or hire, or allow Landlord to directly hire, a certified lead evaluation contractor to perform the inspections of single-family, two-family, and multiple rental dwellings that are covered by the law for lead-based paint hazards, at times specified in the law. The type of inspection depends on the lead levels in children in the municipality where the rental dwelling unit is located. Landlord must provide evidence of a valid lead-safe certification to new tenants of the Property at the time of tenant turnover, unless not required to have had an inspection, and shall attach a copy of such certification to this Lease, which Tenant acknowledges that Landlord has attached.

WIRE FRAUD NOTICE

© 2018 New Jersey REALTORS®

PROTECT YOURSELF FROM BECOMING A VICTIM OF WIRE FRAUD. Wire fraud has become very common. It typically involves a criminal hacker sending fraudulent wire transfer instructions in an email to an unsuspecting buyer/tenant or seller/landlord in a real estate transaction that appears as though it is from a trusted source, such as the victim's broker, attorney, appraiser, home inspector or title agent. The email may look exactly like other emails that the victim received in the past from such individuals, including having the same or a similar email address, accurate loan and other financial information, and the logo of one of those individuals. If the hacker is successful, the victim will follow the bogus instructions to wire money, such as deposit money or payment of an invoice, to the hacker's account. Once this money has been wired, it may not be possible to recover it.

We strongly recommend that, before you wire funds to any party, including your own attorney, real estate broker or title agent, you personally call them to confirm the account number and other wire instructions. You only should call them at a number that you have obtained on your own (e.g., from the sales contract, their website, etc.) and should not use any phone number that is in any email - even if the email appears to be from someone you know.

If you have any reason to believe that your money was sent to a hacker, you must immediately contact your bank and your local office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who can work with other agencies to try to recover your money, to advise them where and when the money was sent. You also should promptly file a complaint with the Internet Crime Center at bec.ic3.gov.

Finally, since much of the information included in such fraudulent emails is obtained from email accounts that are not secure, we strongly recommend that you not provide any sensitive personal or financial information in an email or an attachment to an email. Whenever possible, such information, including Social Security numbers, bank account and credit card numbers and wiring instructions, should be sent by more secure means, such as by hand delivery, over the phone, or through secure mail or overnight services.
