

During a scoring trip a jammer can potentially earn passes for opposing blockers who are...
Earned passes
Passed while the blocker is on the track, up or down	These are earned passes on opponents when the jammer passes them while the jammer is upright, inbounds, and wearing the star. Passes and position are judged based on the center mass point of hips. One earned pass on an opponent will trigger all NOTT points
Passed while the blocker is straddling
Passed while the blocker is out of bounds
NOTT points – Awarded when the first pass is earned
Not on the track (NOTT) due to being in the box or enroute to and from the box	The jammer earns ANY and ALL of that scoring trip's potential NOTT points the moment they earn their first legal pass on an opponent during that scoring trip, even if the opponent was not yet a NOTT during that trip when the jammer earned the first legal pass. For instance, let's say red jammer has only earned a pass on white 3 on their current scoring trip. White 55 is already in the box when red jammer earns a pass on white 3. This means red jammer now has earned 2 points. If white 10 is then issued a penalty and exits the track, red jammer immediately earns another NOTT for white 10, even though red jammer has not physically passed white 10 or any other white blocker on the track yet other than white 3. If instead of being issued a penalty, white 10 was legally
NOTT due to leaving the track area during active jam (injury, or otherwise)
NOTT due to leaving the track temporarily to fix equipment or skate issues
NOTT due to failing to legally line up for the jam, or the team otherwise starts the jam skating with a short jam roster
NOTT due to being fully retired, expelled, or fouled out from the game
NOTT due to having returned to active gameplay behind the Jammer knocked out of bounds ahead of where red jammer is, white 10 is not a NOTT point, and red jammer would need to earn a pass on white 10 who is out of bounds but not enroute to the penalty box.

NOP points – (No Opportunity Points) Awarded at the end of a scoring trip, if they apply to that trip. A jammer does not need to have earned a pass on any blocker to earn any NOP points at the end of their scoring trip. If the jam ends while the jammer is in the EZ, the jammer is awarded all applicable NOPs. There is no trigger to earn NOPs, and NOPs do not trigger NOTTs.
Blocker who has left the EZ from the back and is behind the EZ when a jammer returns to the track from the Penalty Box in front of that Blocker	These are awarded for opponents the jammer did not have an opportunity to physically pass during their scoring trip. These points are earned regardless of other legal passes, but earning these points does not trigger NOTT points for the scoring trip. These are awarded at the end of the scoring trip when the jammer exits the EZ, or at the end of the jam if the jam ended during a scoring trip when the jammer was still in the EZ.
Blocker who is in front of the EZ when the jammer completes the scoring trip
Blocker who is in front of the EZ and the jam ends when the jammer is on a scoring trip and ahead of the rearmost Pack Blocker
Once a point is legally earned, no action of the jammer or another skater takes that point away.
