

CHANGE Is Not A Cuss Word!

Ecclesiastes 3:1 - There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens:

The one word that sums up change is constant. All things change. You change. I change. Our likes and wants change. Families change. Communities change. Nations change. On and on I could go. One person said the only constant about change is...well, change.

And change can be easy, and it can be hard.

No one wants to go back to middle school. Not even current middle schoolers. What a time of change that was. I've often felt that Hell will be much like middle school. The "elementary culture" is gone. No more recess and play-doh. People change. Popularity rules the day. You're either in or out. Your body changes (that's all I want to say about that). Your mind changes. Again, on and on.

But aren't you glad you went through that time and made it out the other side? Think of who you would be if everything in your life was still like elementary school. (Easy! I felt that grin.) But really think about it. No drivers license. No prom. No college. No career. No boyfriend/girlfriend. No marriage. No children and grandchildren. Just addition, nouns and the rain cycle. Who would you be if you hadn't made it through middle school. It was tough but shaped you into who you are now. And looking back, you see how you were molded getting through a time of uncertainty. And it wasn't the last time you change. Change is constant.

And you are changed. Not by accident nor fate. God was directing your steps then and is directing them now. He is deliberately working on you for your good and His glory. And your faith in Him is growing with every change. The depth of your relationship with a God whose love is unfathomable is changing and growing. Although He doesn't change (Heb. 13:8), your love, appreciation and knowledge of His love, forgiveness and faith is so much deeper.

So please remember, change is not a cuss word. Change is the molding that you need to become the child you were always meant to be. Embrace it. Embrace it before you even understand it, having the faith that God is in control and He is steering your day.

And besides, no one wants to go back to middle school. But thank you, middle school.

From My Heart,

Billy

“Friendship is unnecessary, like philosophy, like art... It has no survival value; rather it is one of those things which give value to survival.”

— C.S. Lewis,

I love this quote especially now in the midst of social distancing and closings. We have been doing things to survive for a long while now. Before all of this happened maybe we didnt realize how much we needed people, friends. Sometimes I was perfectly content with taking a break from people. But the distance grows, the longer you are apart. As for me the distance has become unbearable. I am dieing to see all of our amazing youth group kids!

Survival isn't enough... But this begs the question: Why do we do that with our faith? You see we tend to distance our self from God for many reasons and then we wonder why He feels so far away. Distance grows unless you find ways to stay connected. Dont give up praying and reading your bible. Do you long for Jesus the same way you do for people right now? Your answer might say alot about where your faith is.

Prayer Requests

Since we are again meeting for Sunday worship, Prayer Requests will be taken and shared on Sunday mornings, and then added to the prayer list. Since we won't be meeting on Wednesday nights until fall, you can still and always call or email the church with your prayer requests and updates during the week. These will be added to the list and emailed out a couple times a week. And also, we'll continue to send out urgent prayer needs as we find out about them.

Offering

There is a giving box in the foyer every Sunday or you may mail in a check or give on-line, as you prefer. Online giving is available through the church website, or by mobile device on the GivePlus app. (Directions on the website). (Reminder: If you give on the website to the Other category, please type in the text box the purpose for it.)

If using your mobile device, the "Other" giving category is not available through the mobile app. If you have a payment or donation to make to other than the listed categories, please use an alternate method, such as the website, or by check or cash (in an envelope with the purpose written on the outside.) If you have any questions about this, call the church office.
Thank you!
