MAY 2020

We have been cooped up in our own homes for over a month now. Students have missed the majority of the spring semester, proms, maybe even graduations. There are a lot of things during this time that we have missed, maybe even for some it has been a job and some income loss. The questions are mounting now that the hope of reopening is coming. The question "Whats next" is heavy in our minds and hearts. I know this question seems overwhelming. We don't really know what this summer looks like, the plans we all have made now need to be rethought. We are asking ourselves if it is even safe to open up, how cautious do I need to be. With all of these questions I have to rest in one truth...I can trust Jesus. So many times we get wrapped up in the questions and the worry and the fear but one thing has never changed. I can trust in Jesus. This doesn't mean that every thing is going to be perfect, but it does mean that no matter what happens as we move forward LCAN TRUST JESUS.
