HER CHALLENGE IS NOT DYSLEXIA, BUT RATHER THE LACK OF AWARENESS OF IT

“I am so happy that people with dyslexia are main characters in book. We need more books like that. I really enjoy the story. Helped me to understand a lot of more about the challenges that kids with this problem go through. The story is very inspiring, interesting and teach us important life lessons. Thank you so much.

— Maria Aduke Alabi, best seller author. (Amazon Review)

BASED ON REAL-LIFE EXPERIENCES. LUNA'S STORY HIGHLIGHTS THE STRUGGLES OF A GIRL WITH DYSLEXIA WHO WAS ALSO A VICTIM OF BULLYING IN SCHOOL UNTIL TEACHERS UNDERSTOOD HER CHALLENGES AND FACILITATED SPECIAL HELP TO SUPPORT HER LEARNING DISABILITY AND BULLYING PROBLEM. THE BOOK WRITTEN BY CLEMENTINA MAKANJUOLA, WHO HAS DYSLEXIA HERSELF, AIMS TO RAISE AWARENESS TO HELP MINIMIZE THE DIFFICULTIES OF OTHER DYSLEXIC KIDS WHILE HELPING OTHERS TO ACKNOWLEDGE THAT KIDS WITH DYSLEXIA ARE EASY TARGETS FOR BULLIES AND NEED SPECIAL ACADEMIC SUPPORT & CARE.

CLEMENTINA MAKANJUOLA is a British citizen born in Nigeria with cerebral palsy, developmental delay, and dyslexia, which made it difficult for her to read and write. Her life growing up was a bit challenging. However, Clementina was determined to live a fulfilling life and make the best of her circumstances, and despite her struggles, she developed a passion for working with young children and writing.
