

Sky Lakes Wilderness Adventures Environmental Policy

Our Commitment

At Sky Lakes Wilderness Adventures, we are committed to operating in ways that respect, protect, and enhance the natural environments we work in. As a veteran-owned, family-operated business based in the Upper Klamath Basin, we recognize our responsibility to steward the waterways, forests, and wildlife that make our experiences possible. Environmental responsibility is built into every decision we make.

Sustainable Operations

We actively work to reduce our environmental footprint across all operations. This includes maintaining clean, well-managed equipment, minimizing waste, and promoting low-impact recreation practices. Our guided trips, rentals, and shuttle services are designed to provide high-quality experiences while preserving the integrity of the ecosystems we operate in.

Environmental Compliance

Sky Lakes Wilderness Adventures complies with all applicable federal, state, and local environmental laws and regulations. We stay informed on evolving policies and best practices to ensure our operations meet or exceed required standards.

Protecting Natural Resources

We prioritize protecting sensitive habitats, including spring-fed waterways, riparian zones, and culturally significant areas. We follow strict access and use practices, encouraging designated launch points, minimizing shoreline disturbance, and educating guests on proper behavior in fragile environments.

Leave No Trace Ethics

We incorporate Leave No Trace principles into all of our trips and customer interactions. Guests are encouraged to respect wildlife, pack out all waste, and avoid disturbing natural features. Our guides lead by example to ensure these practices are consistently followed.

Education and Awareness

We believe that education is key to conservation. Our guides share knowledge about local ecosystems, wildlife, and cultural significance to foster a deeper appreciation for the landscapes we operate in. By increasing awareness, we help promote long-term stewardship among our guests.

Continuous Improvement

We are committed to continually improving our environmental performance. This includes regularly reviewing our practices, adopting new methods to reduce impact, and staying engaged with local partners, land managers, and tribal stakeholders.

Community and Cultural Respect

We recognize that the lands and waters we operate on hold cultural significance, particularly to the Klamath Tribes. We strive to operate respectfully, support local partnerships, and ensure our presence aligns with broader conservation and cultural values.

Communication

This policy is shared with staff, partners, and stakeholders and is reviewed periodically to reflect improvements and changes in our operations. Everyone involved with Sky Lakes Wilderness Adventures plays a role in upholding these standards.
