

Join the RMAS Today

The Resource Management Association Scotland (RMAS) is a not-for-profit, non-political membership organisation for micro, small and medium sized resource management companies operating in Scotland.

Our membership is growing and we are actively representing and supporting companies who are operating across the length and breadth of Scotland.

We understand that due to the Covid-19 crisis our sector is facing significant economic pressures and uncertainty, and that now more than ever it is crucial our Sectors voice is heard.

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION SCOTLAND

We:

Represent your views to Scottish Government, SEPA, Zero Waste and other key agencies and organisations.

We provide industry insight and highlight the support our sector will need as we move out of lockdown, into recovery and for future resilience, at bi-weekly Scottish Government Chaired Forums.

Keep you up to date about the latest sector news, information and emerging issues.

We produce weekly briefing notes, daily e-mails, social media posts on emerging sector issues, including staffing, PPE, furlough, health & safety guidance, market trends, etc.

Identify new business support and funding opportunities

We have been actively engaged in identifying and supporting the development of new funding sources and research and development opportunities for the sector.

Help you realise new commercial opportunities

We are actively pursuing joint procurement opportunities for services and equipment, developing collaborative partnerships, and support our members to access specialist consultants, training and equipment suppliers.

Raise and support your concerns

We raise and support individual member enquiries with Scottish Government, SEPA, Zero Waste Scotland and other key stakeholders.

Respond to consultations

We have responded to recent consultations: Deposit Return Scheme, the Circular Economy Proposals for Legislation, and the SEPA Consultation on New Outcome Based Permit for Non-Hazardous Landfills.

Special Offer Joining Fees

We are offering for a limited period the following discounted rates.
