

NEXSMART's Price Redistribution

All crypto exchange price feed in one normalized connection

Today the crypto liquidity distribution is extremely decentralized, and many exchanges provides prices that are totally inefficient to most of the players. Nexsmart is aggregating all these liquidity pools into one system where client can easily access the best prices for their execution. By connecting to Nexsmart price feed you have the following benefits:

- Better price on all crypto currencies
- Arbitrage opportunities between different exchanges prices
- A best bid/offer guaranteed on each crypto currency
- Connection to significant market data vendors
- Connection through FastFix for other types of systems.

THE NEXSMART APPROACH

Nexsmart offers a self-provisioning portal to connect to "Hard to get" liquidity providers effectively and quickly. These liquidity sources are independent, non-repriced and offer natural matches to people in need of natural offsets.

The Nexsmart portal allows the client to quickly and efficiently integrate these new liquidity flows with minimum work and cost to the technical side. Nexsmart is opening a new era in terms of market vision through its historical storage and derivatives calculated aggregation.

WEALTH MANAGERS

Equip yourself with a state of the art, one-stop shopping platform used by the best wealth managers across the world, and enjoy direct execution, client management, risk and performance management, and portfolio and reporting functionalities at your finger tips.

PRIVATE BANKS

Extend your reach digitally globally and white label the capabilities of your top partners to gain market share and provide a higher level of service without any install or expensive technical buildup. Build a network of distribution partners connected in an efficient setup and leverage their customer relationships to distribute your products and capabilities in a white label format.

ASSET MANAGERS

Reach a new level of execution and clearing efficiency by using a revolutionary set of tools that will put you on top of the toughest equation to manage in today's markets: liquidity and capital. Add these new tools to your existing EMS/OMS/PMS infrastructure in an integrated fashion with no significant budget or delays, and start managing the future.

SELL SIDE

NEXSMART offers the first platform to handle the new markets in an efficient way for the sell side to optimize capital usage. Provide your teams with new tools to better serve your clients, while protecting your institution and accurately pricing your commitments. Allocate the most capital at the fair price to optimize your portfolio of clients. Distribute your liquidity, and swiftly and efficiently acquire new liquidity, while outsourcing the costs of aggregation with a trusted and experienced partner.

In a rapidly changing landscape, Nexsmart remains at the forefront of electronic trading: anticipating challenges, understanding the client's needs, and providing innovative solutions.
