Two Cool Towns Road Trip

By R. Doug, Clemmons, NC

[Ed: This article was originally posted November 10, 2014 in the Ride Reports section of the Sport-Touring.org forum at:

Contrary to popular belief, the terms cool and hip can be synonymous with Appalachia. Yeah, sure, you have Asheville, NC in the Blue Ridge area and Burlington, VT in the Green Mountains area. But, what about other small Appalachian towns? I've been to Blowing Rock, NC a few times, and while it can be a little too touristy for me during the peak season, it's a cool little town up in the Appalachian Mountains. I've also read and have heard a lot about Greenville, SC. I have never been to Greenville before. So, that was a good enough reason to get on the bike and head south.

On my way, it went through Mooresville, NC which is home to most of the NASCAR teams' home garages.

Also, I stopped at Lake Lure, famous for Chimney Rock and being the location of the movie, "Dirty Dancing."

My view from my lunch location where I had the She-Crab Soup and a salad.

I eventually made it to Greenville where I rode all the way down Main St. towards my hotel, which is located on Greenville's famous river walk area and park.

While I didn't get any images of the northern section of Main St., it was a beautifully kept small downtown area with tree lined streets, a lot of local shops and restaurants, and busy with people walking, shopping, and dining al fresco.

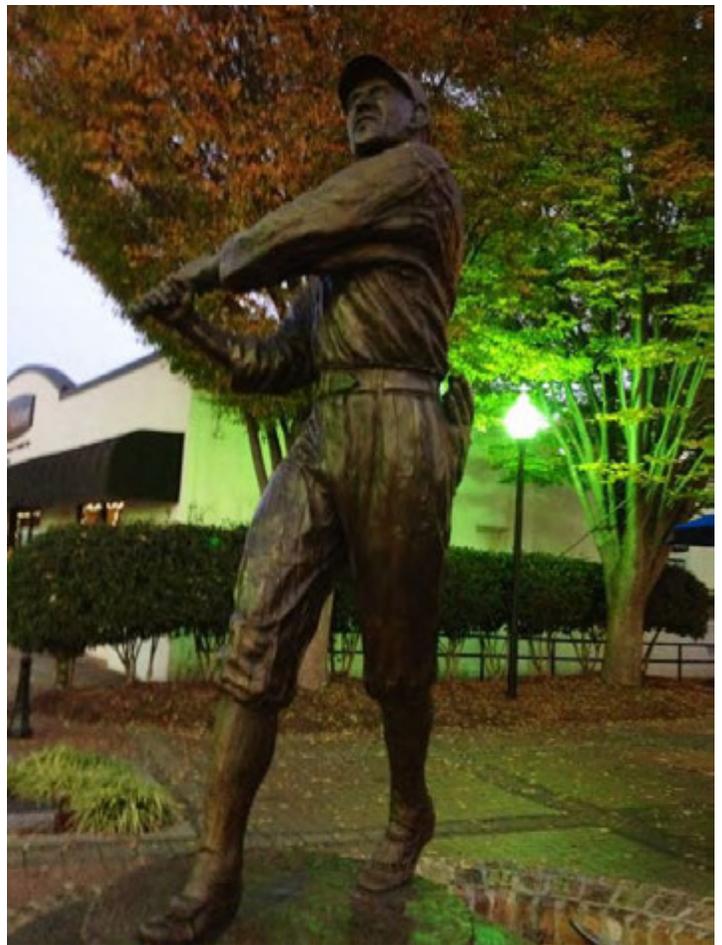

After getting settled in my room, I walked around the park and south on Main St. to get some dinner at "Smoke on the Water." I didn't take my main camera, so the following shots are from my iPhone.

It was getting dark, so I made my way to the restaurant, passing by “Shoeless Joe Jackson.”

Dinner at “Smoke on the Water.” I started with a generous pour of Baker’s Bourbon and ended up eating what I believe is the best brisket I’ve had east of the Mississippi.

The next day, I took a twisty scenic way from Greenville, SC to Blowing Rock, NC. Here are some images from the ride.

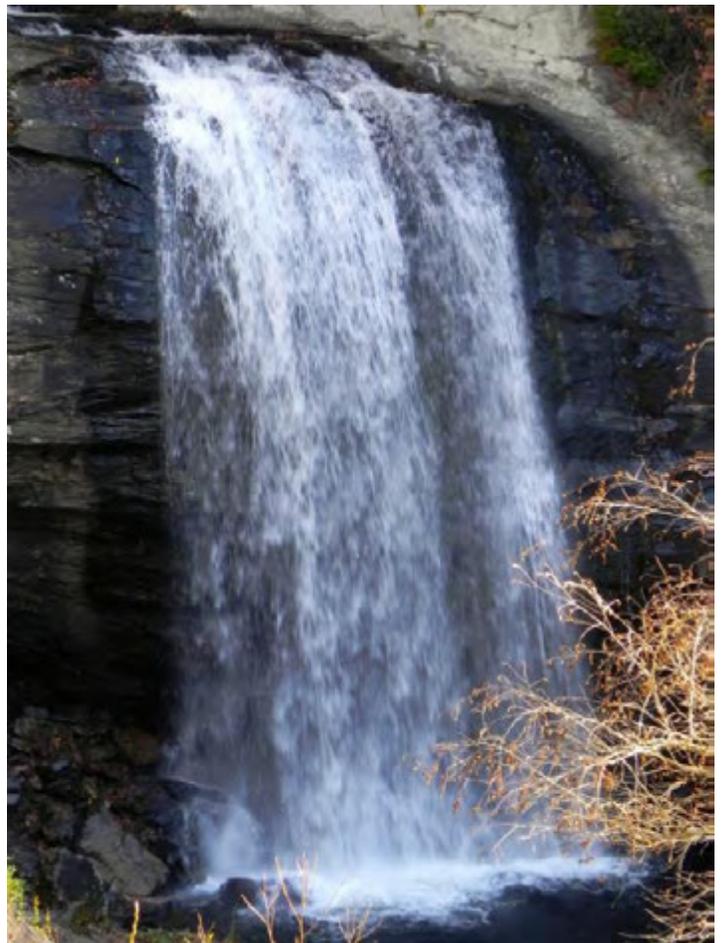

Southern Appalachian twisties in South Carolina.

From Gorges State Park, NC.

Looking Glass Falls.

This will do.

Off the Blue Ridge Parkway.

I walked to the forum-recommended Blowing Rock Ale House. Here are some shots to the brew pub.

The local beer and food was very good. I had the Scotch Ale followed by their seasonal ESB during dinner.

Then, as a desert, I requested a pour of Booker's (125 proof). The bartender provided me with a VERY generous pour. My butt is kicked.

I got back to the room, turned on the fireplace, and brewed some coffee.

SAFETY TALK

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Ultimately, the safety of motorcycle riders and their passengers is their own responsibility. Nothing presented in the column supersedes, negates or relieves a motorcyclist and/or passenger from assumption of personal responsibility for their actions and safety.

Did I Really Just See That?

Here is another way to approach safety. How many times has another motorcyclist passed you, and in your mind you asked, “Did I really just see that?” So here are some of the weirdest motorcycle sights with obvious safety implications that we’ve ever seen.

“The Stacker”

We once ran into a female rider who had packed so much for her trip that her bags on the back seat were taller than she was, sitting in front of them. The bike was so top heavy, she couldn’t balance it, and it kept falling over on her.

“Dead Men Tell No Tales”

A cruiser rider in front of us was displaying a patch on the back of his black t-shirt that said “Think Safety - Dead Men Tell No Tales”. He wasn’t wearing a helmet.

“Mr. Fresh Air”

The rider who buys a modular helmet, and then rides with it flipped up. Really? Why bother?

“Tourist Rider”

Shorts, Hawaiian shirt and flip-flops. Awesome.

“Best Buddies”

Motorcycle buddies who insist on riding side by side in the same lane. Yes, motorcops do it. The difference: The cops are TRAINED to do it. It all looks cool until someone has to swerve.

Photo source

“The Lane Splitter”

We see it almost every day. Unless you’re in CA and know how to do it, and it’s not illegal, don’t even think about it.

“Passenger Denial”

The rider is geared to the max. The passenger? Shorts, sneakers and a tank top. Maybe the rider is just not that interested in him/her?

And my favorite...

“Cord Hero”

You probably know this rider. He or she (usually the former... the latter are smarter than this...) proudly declares he has gotten 15,000 miles out of his tires, and says not to worry about the cord showing on the rear. He just knows he can get another few hundred miles out of it before replacement time. Oh, and he’s leaving on a bike trip tomorrow.

Sometimes we don’t realize our approach to motorcycling may entail some unintended risks. How we maintain our bike, how we dress for the ride, how we ride all impact safety. On the other hand...

Surely you’ve never been the rider that someone saw one day and said to themselves, “Did I Really Just See That?”

Don’t be that guy... ☺ Ride Safe in 2016!

South Director's Report

IF YOU DOUBTED THE CALENDAR, JUNE'S WEATHER CERTAINLY CONFIRMED THE START OF THE RAINY SEASON!!

Ah, we are at the start of our "winter" behavior... From the A/C house to the A/C car to the A/C office/store to the A/C car (or bike, wink, wink, Don!), to the A/C house... and repeat!! Only motorcyclists and mad dogs and Englishmen are outside in this kind of humidity!! And ride we did!!

The Central gang started off our BRUNCH ride season with a ride to the Red Wing Restaurant in Groveland. Teresa's report follows... The next week, the Southies met up at Main Street America in Lake Placid. This place continues to shine!! They set aside plenty of seats for us, never let our coffee cups empty, and served up a delicious mix of brunch items!! I think the weather reports may have scared off a few of you. We had three of the Boynton Boys and three of the Melbourne Men get together, and not one of us felt a drop of rain all day!! So, we had the roads all to ourselves!!

And, we have/had our annual rally in Vermont. I'll give you a full report, along with input from other members, next month. You ought to be there for yourself!! Assume that we are having the time of our lives!!

What's Next??

We continue with our Brunch rides in July! Teresa and the Central gang are heading to Country Angels in Polk City on July 9th. She has a private dining room set up for you!! The next Saturday, join the Southies for a ride to LaBelle for a new-to-us destination!! The granddaughter of the original Flora and Ella's has carried on the family tradition of fine home style cooking!! Check us out on the 16th, at Two Peas Café!! More details are always available on our website www.flmsta.org We have all of the dates picked for the remainder of the year. Many of the destinations are now included. Check in often!!

Membership News

Well, we may have some new news soon, or I simply missed the report. There was a change up in the reporting methods, and I might have deleted something that I actually needed...

Anyway, I'll catch up with any and all news at STAR. The Membership meeting should help catch us up with the big picture, and I'll make sure I'm tuned in for future reports.

As a heads up to all, be sure to forward any new email addresses or changes to Michael Tissandier, membership@ridemsta.com. He then forwards the info to the various State Directors, VP's, and EC, as well as our newsletter editor.

Random Ramblings!

You should have been at STAR!! What a terrific part of the country!! Did you hear where we're going to next year?!? You'd know by now if you had attended the Membership meeting...

I'm looking forward to a great summer of riding, regardless of the heat or rain. Remember, most of our National membership only have 4-7 months of decent riding weather. Can you imagine only LOOKING at your bike for 5-8 months a year?!?! Yuk!!

Ride well! Ride often! Do it safely!!
