A MESSAGE FROM THE WORSHIPFUL MASTER

Worshipful Master, Bryon Howe

Phoenixians,

For the upcoming March and April activities at the lodge, we are looking forward to more degrees, making masons, more social activities, Phoenicia Feast, and final working on competition of the Grand Lodge Awards submission. Master Architect, website, trestleboard and mason of the year.

This term has been one of the most fruitful for building our lodge, brotherhood and charity activities.

I am proud of all those stepping up, and challenge those who feel they have been left behind to try to remedy that. Many hands make light work.

We do have Masonicon 2025 coming up, I hope everyone is registered as there will be no on-site registration.

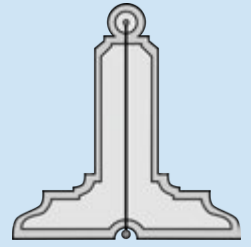

As we look forward to another Arizona summer, let us not forget those who came before and offer up our praises to the every living Supreme Architect of the Universe for allowing us to walk amongst those giants.

The theme for 2025 – Make Phoenicia Great Again

Respectfully and fraternally,
WB Bryon Howe
Worshipful Master 2015, 2024, 2025

A MESSAGE FROM THE SENIOR WARDON

Senior Wardon, Ed Perez

Fraternal greetings brethren!

The new year has officially rolled in full steam with all hands on deck for Phoenicia 58. The days of each month fell off swiftly one by one like the leaves of the trees embracing the autumn breeze, unfolding new challenges and discoveries for our masonic minds.

The holiday season is past us but the essence of the holiday spirit remains within the hearts of every Phoenicia Mason as we come together to build bridges, break barriers, and bring betterment among ourselves and to all the living beings around us.

Build Bridges — to build a strong and functional relationship with one another is one of the vital elements of a successful lodge. And it starts by treating each other as equals and always reaching out a helping hand to a distressed fellow with compassion and empathy. A bridge built with selflessness and good intent will always stand the test of time.

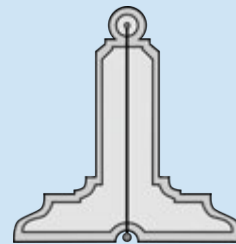

Break Barriers — to break the barriers of mediocrity and complacency is one of our great aims. As masons, we pour our time and talents to excel in our chosen endeavors and to go above and beyond the call of duty and expectation with the help of our Divine Guide. Pushing ourselves to greater limits as we grow in faith, reason and conviction.

“If you can believe, all things are possible to him who believes” (Mark 9:23).

A MESSAGE FROM THE SENIOR WARDEN

continued

Senior Warden, Ed Perez

Bring Betterment — to improve our physical, mental and spiritual state as humans is the first goal we have to achieved in becoming a positive influence to the world we are living in.

By maintaining our holistic wellness, we are more likely to succeed in seizing our desires and aspirations while also becoming an essential asset to the lodge and to the community.

Great Architect of the Universe, we offer this moment to give praise to Your Name and admiration to Your works. We humbly ask for guidance and wisdom as we start to face and tackle this new masonic year ahead of us. And lastly, may the teachings of the craft strengthen our virtues and square the days of our lives.

Ed L. Perez
Senior Warden
Phoenicia Lodge 58

A MESSAGE FROM THE JUNIOR WARDEN

Junior Warden, Shane Gilbert

Greetings from the South Gate:

As I reflect on the 1st two months of the new election year, I look back on the goals and aspirations I set forth in my first Trestleboard entry. I can't help but bask in pride to all that we have accomplished as a lodge in such a short time. We are truly reaching new heights as our lodge continues to grow. The value and quality of men we have initiated, passed, and raised is unquestionably superior. In turn, we are raising our standard of ritual and seeing more brothers step up to contribute. We have entered into a new partnership with the Phoenix Masonry School, offering working tools to worthy operative Masons.

Our Funeral team, under the leadership of WB Ray Brigandi, has given Masonic honors to two fallen brothers, honoring their memory in the Spirit of Friendship and Brotherly Love. Lastly, we have re-branded our annual pit cookout, to include family and close friends and to build unity amongst all through refreshment and repose. In short, We Are Doing What We Are Here To Do.

So what is next? As we move into the second quarter of the Masonic year, it will be my goal to focus on education. As the membership of Phoenicia 58 grows, we naturally become younger. Hence, there is much to learn. Admittedly, my focus has been on learning the business of the lodge, my station, and ritual. Gratefully, a new initiate recently reminded me of a core aspect of Freemasonry that we, as a whole, can and should be giving our due attention: Masonic Esoterics.

WB. SHANE GILBERT

continued

Junior Warden, Shane Gilbert

In reference to the first paragraph, the brothers of Phoenicia lodge #58 are doing it right. But why do we do the things we do?

Philanthropy. What of our past makes us unique and uncommonly suited to stand as pillars in our community? What do the symbols, the degree lectures, the Masonic books, etcetera, mean to our personal Masonic journeys? What is the length, at this moment, of your cable-tow and where do you stand between the Ashlers?

We have all come to this Fraternity for our own reasons. We were all asked what brought us to Freemasonry upon entering the lodge. The answers we gave were deemed worthy by those empowered to accept and guide us. While our personal Masonic endeavors may change, remember that singular question:

Why do you want to be a Freemason?

“Wise people learn when they can; fools learn when they must”. - Brother Arthur Wellesley, 1st Duke of Wellington.

Fraternally,

Bro. Shane Gilbert

Masonic Civility

Shared From Your Treasurer's Desk: source: Masoniccivility.org

Civility—defined as politeness, respect, and courteous behavior—has been a key factor in maintaining social harmony, fostering dialogue, and ensuring democratic stability. More than just etiquette, civility helps societies function by promoting mutual understanding and peaceful interactions.

Historical Perspectives

Throughout history, civility has been seen as essential for governance and social order. In ancient Greece, Aristotle emphasized its role in building thriving communities, while Roman statesman Cicero viewed civil discourse as crucial for political stability. Enlightenment thinkers like John Locke and Immanuel Kant reinforced the idea that respectful dialogue is necessary for justice and democracy.

Civility and Democracy

The founding of modern democracies was built on civil discourse. George Washington warned against political division, stressing the importance of unity and respect. The dangers of incivility were evident in the French Revolution's Reign of Terror, where political discourse deteriorated into chaos.

Civility in Social Movements

Nonviolent resistance has played a critical role in social change. Martin Luther King Jr. used civility as a tool for advancing civil rights, advocating for respectful yet firm activism. Similarly, the women's suffrage movement relied on peaceful protest and civil dialogue to gain public support.

The Decline of Civility Today

Political polarization, social media, and sensationalist media have contributed to a decline in civility. Inflammatory rhetoric and personal attacks dominate public discourse, making consensus and productive dialogue difficult. This incivility weakens democratic governance, alienates marginalized communities, and increases social fragmentation.

Restoring Civility

To rebuild civil discourse, education should emphasize critical thinking and respectful debate. Political leaders must model bipartisanship and constructive engagement, while media organizations should promote balanced reporting. On a personal level, individuals can contribute by practicing empathy, active listening, and respectful communication.

Conclusion

Civility has shaped history and remains vital for contemporary society. In an increasingly polarized world, restoring civility in public and personal interactions can foster a more just, inclusive, and peaceful society.

Our Masonic Lodge and our Brotherhood

By Brother Rodger Marx. TREASURER

The term "lodge" itself comes from the structures which the stonemasons built against the sides of the cathedrals during construction. In winter, when building had to stop, they lived in these lodges and worked at carving stone.

But a Masonic lodge is more than a building; it is a living, breathing organization made up of and sustained by the members themselves. It is a tight-knit group of men who make solemn vows to one another and become comrades in Masonry and life.

Above all, a Masonic lodge represents open arms, a helping hand, and brotherly love to every Mason, anywhere, at any time.

Our Masonic lodge is a local organization of the Masonic fraternity. We operates under a charter from the grand lodge, and we have two primary functions:

- Provide an opportunity for members to experience fraternal and social bonding through our meetings, programs, and sponsored events

EDUCATION ARTICLES

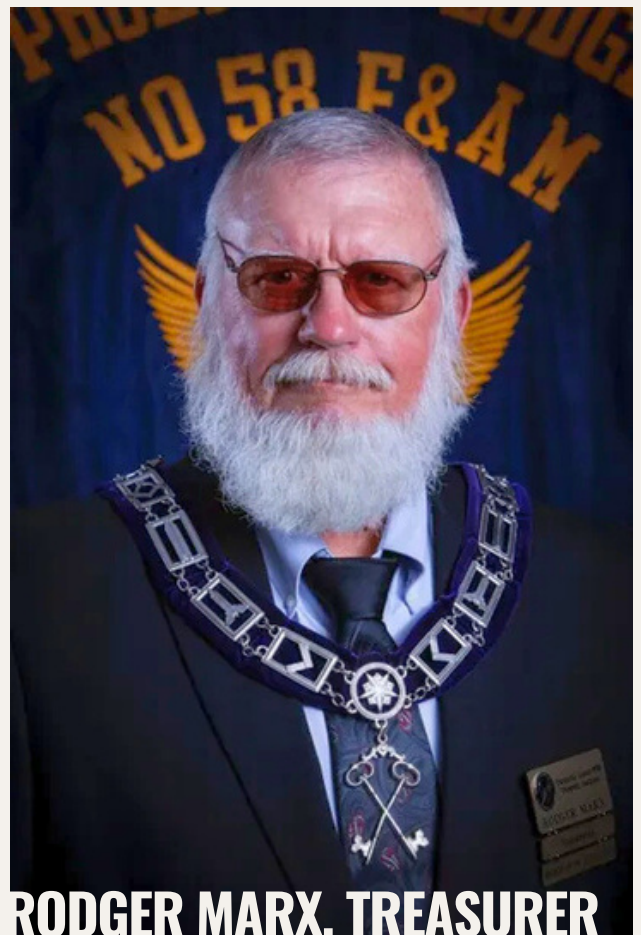

- Initiate new members according to time-honored ceremonies called degrees, ultimately passing down the fraternal heritage that unites all Freemasons in brotherhood.

Brotherhood is our way of life. It is our assurance to each other and requires a personal commitment, by each member to be one.

This starts with your commitment to come to lodge events and meetings. Your commitment displays your serious desire to join!

What good is a brotherhood if you say you are, but don't show it by your actions! Brotherhood by itself isn't good enough unless it produces good deeds and actions, without which, our lodge and our brotherhood would be dead or dying.

We are solidified by our actions, not by what we only proclaim.

COVER ART & AUTHOR

Masonic Apron by Ari Roussimoff, a critically acclaimed painter and film director, has been called one of the most prolific and creative artists of his generation. His paintings of Russian, Ukrainian, Jewish, symbolic and Masonic themes have earned him much acclaim and they have been shown in over 80 exhibitions worldwide, including at the Eduard Nakhamkin Fine Arts Galleries, M.L. International Gallery of Fine Arts, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, A & J Galleries, The Bucharest Museum, The Nicholas Roerich Museum, Chancellor Robert R. Livingston Masonic Library and Museum, The Peter Fingesten Gallery-Pace University, Arma Galleries, Galerie Ehmer, Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery-Frostburg State University, The Theodor Herzl Institute, Evangelical Lutheran Church, Weintraub Gallery, Anthology Film Archives, Ingber Gallery, Hudson Guild Art Gallery, YM-YWHA, Art Gallery of the Educational Alliance, Galerie Fischer, Ukraine Club Gallery and many others. Among the many who have lauded Ari Roussimoff's paintings were the modern art masters Marc Chagall and Oskar Kokoschka. And as a teenager, he was invited to lunch with Salvador Dali and his wife Gala. For some years now, Ari Roussimoff has also been active as a director of motion pictures. His first full-length feature film was the critically acclaimed surrealist horror movie, SHADOWS IN THE CITY. Roussimoff won the Phantom of the Movies award for Best Documentary of 1999 for his incredible film, FREAKS UNCENSORED (directed by Roussimoff, screenplay by Vivian Forlander). Considered by critics and audiences alike as the best ever documentary about Circus Sideshow Performers, FREAKS UNCENSORED was listed by the esteemed Facets Movie Lovers Video Guide as one of THE BEST DOCUMENTARY MOVIES OF ALL TIME! Roussimoff's colorful life also includes creating sets for a Broadway show, costume design, performance art, hosting a three-part television music program on MTV and appearing on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera in a non-singing acting role. A colorful speaker, the artist has given many talks on his work (and still does). Roussimoff has lectured at colleges, universities, cultural institutions, and various functions in both Europe and America. He has perfectly meshed his life as a painter and as a filmmaker in a way that has not been done before. A world traveler, Roussimoff has lived and worked in Zurich, Amsterdam, New York, Los Angeles, Munich, Miami Beach and San Diego, among other places. Roussimoff works at painting all the time and considers each picture an adventure.

GRAND LECTURER AWARDS

The Howard Spain Award for delivering statement found on Page S-22 in your manual by memory.

HOWARD E. SPAIN AWARD

Past Master of Arizona #2 (1960)
Grand Lecturer from 1972-1978

“...recommend that every Worshipful Master make an announcement at the beginning of every second section of the Third Degree that this candidate has not completed his Third Degree or the lessons that we are charged to teach him. There, this second section is for his benefit and there will be no levity which might tend to close his mind to these lessons, if you laugh, please laugh to yourself, not the candidate”

Howard Spain, GL's Report 1975

(Recommendation codified at GLC in 1978 and written by Spain)

The Marshal's Award given for reciting the usual interrogations upon the EA candidate by memory.

THE MARSHAL'S AWARD

The only place in our ritual that lays out the expectations for the candidate

1. Traditionally done with scroll or book
2. Impressive when done without book
3. Sets the tone for the candidate
4. Provides ritual use for Marshal
5. Usually only heard once by Masons

GOAL:

To incentivize ritual and open door to more award pins

Venue Overview The Legacy Golf Course

PAR 71 - 6,000+ YARDS The Legacy Golf Club, rich in heritage and history, is an 18-hole par 71 championship golf course designed by renowned golf course architect Gary Panks. Located on what was once Dwight B. Heard's 7,500-acre ranch, the golf club is rich in Arizona heritage and history. Taking great pride in preserving and integrating many of the historical structures and monuments, our 18-hole championship golf course offers a unique look and an added opportunity to experience some Arizona history and of the Heard legacy, from which the golf club takes its name. The original two-grain silos, built in 1902, still remain along the 18th fairway and were once the tallest structures in Maricopa County. The Sierra Vista House, which marks the 1st tee, was visited on occasion in the early 1900's by Theodore Roosevelt and Pancho Villa! Come make your own history at the Legacy Golf Club!
