GEIL EXPERIENCES DURING THE CIVIL WAR

Thanks to Eunice Geil Smith we have extensive genealogy on the Geil Family that begins on page two. On this cover page we begin with some information from Norman R. Wenger and David S. Rodes from the six-volume invaluable set Unionists and the Civil War Experience in the Shenandoah Valley, Vol. II, Greenmount, Edom, and Linville, Rockingham County, Virginia, printed by Penobscot Press and published for The Valley Brethren-Mennonite Heritage Center and The Valley Research Associates, 2004.

Number 23 presents the Jacob Geil, Claim No. 21844 from the National Archives, Washington, D.C. Some years after the Civil War various people presented claims for property lost during the war. As do many other claims, this claim has testimonies from a number of people. These bolster the claim made by Jacob Geil to the Federal government for the losses endured. Beside the testimony given by claimant Jacob Geil, there are eight others who testified that they knew of losses Geil experienced. Thus we learn a good bit of what neighbors and relatives knew regarding the losses experienced by this Geil family.

First a bit of genealogy. Jacob was born Aug. 31, 1828 and died Oct. 16, 1909. Mary was born May 21, 1833. He was a son of Mennonite bishop John Geil, Sr. and grandson of Abraham Geil, who was a son of Jacob Geil, whose father C. Conrad Geil migrated from Alsace, Germany.

Jacob and Mary Geil claimed losses totaling $761 that was taken by the U.S. army during the time when General Sheridan troops came through and caused tremendous losses from Virginia citizens.

In the claim Jacob, aged 47, testified that he was glad to always do what he could for Union men. He did admit that during the war they harbored Union men and assisted some to escape from the Confederacy. As did many Mennonites and Brethren, Jacob stayed out of the army. He did it by several ways. One time he paid $600 for a substitute who came home when his term was up. Geil then purchased the Edom Post Office until the former postmaster came home, then Geil paid the exemption tax of $500.

Jacob Geil was a church deacon who helped collect money to provide funds and pay the fines of poor members. One time a party of secessionists came to "capture him or worse." The visitors claimed to be refugees. However, Geil and his father-in-law "were not fooled" and quickly got out of the house to hide in the barn before the secessionists got there.
In Search of Geil, Gile, Coil, Kile, Kyle, Coyle, Guile and Galley Family History

By Eunice Geil

European roots for the Geil family are obscure. Tradition indicates that the progenitor was born in Alsace, Germany and immigrated through Amsterdam to Philadelphia, PA in the 1750's. Two immigration options are recorded. The other one says Johann Conrad Geil arrived on 7 November 1754 with son Jacob, age 8, on the ship "John and Elizabeth." Jacob Galley arrived 14 September 1751 on the "Duke of Bedford." On 14th and 28th Mar., 1786, Jacob Geil and wife Mary sold to Jacob Holdeman and William Godshalk two parcels totaling 153 acres.

Jacob signed an indenture dated 17 Feb. 1791, to settle the estate of first wife's father Henry Clemmer. Jacob Geil of Chester Co., PA was named to receive Anna's share as she was deceased.

On 20 June 1792, Jacob Coil of Chester Co., PA, purchased 150 acres "being on a branch of Cedar Run" in Rockingham Co., VA. Evidence that on 27 Apr. 1795, a deed between David Breneman and Jacob Coyle Sr. for 500 acres on Linville Creek exists. This transaction is referenced after the death of Jacob Geil, Sr. in multiple deeds of sale by his eleven heirs.

When he died intestate, Jacob Sr. was buried on his Linville Creek farm. On 28 Dec. 1795, a Bond for estate of Jacob Kile for $2000 was signed by Jacob Gile, Jacob Rife, Peter Sites, Peter Johnson, and Jacob Bowman. "Jacob Kyle and Jacob Rife adm. of the Estate of Jacob Kyle Deceased is granted them (the widow relicc of the Decedent having from under her own hand waived her wright of admin.) with Le... entered into Bond made each thereto as the Law directs."

9. Elizabeth (b. about 1786/7) was living in Rockingham Co., VA in 1808, when she sold her share of the estate. She married David Allebaugh c. 1810. According to the 1850 census of Thorn Twp, Perry Co., Ohio, David was born in VA. Elizabeth was born in PA and 63 yrs. Her son Samuel was 39 yrs.

10. Philip (over 14 on 22 Aug. 1802, born before 1788). He married Elizabeth Garges, sister to Mary Gargas, wife of Abraham Geil. He returned to Bucks Co., PA after the death of his father, to live with his guardian Uncle Abraham Gile. By 26 November 1808 he signed a deed of sale for his share of estate to Jacob Urner.

11. Margaret (under 14 on 22 Aug. 1802; b. after 1788). Married John Schroger. She returned to Bucks Co., PA after the death of her father, to live with her guardian Christian Kratz/Crotz and wife, Aunt Catherine.

22 August 1802 "petitioners are the children of Mary Godshalk, late wife of Samuel Godshalk, daughter of Jacob Gile who died lately in the county of Rockingham in the state of Virginia possessed of a considerable personal estate." Jacob Godshalk "in his own behalf" chose his father Samuel as his guardian. By petition of Anna and Abraham "by their next friends", Abraham Gile and Christian Crotz, Samuel was appointed guardian during their minority. Abraham Gile was chosen guardian by his brother Philip Gile. Christian Crotz was appointed guardian for his sister-in-law Margaret Gile during her minority.

Jacob's fourth wife (Trissel) had no children. The letter written by Joseph H. Wenger was found in the Grace Showalter papers at the EMU Historical Library. (He visited the Trissels graveyard and saw Anna Geil was buried among the Trissel family. He noted what he got from "Father's memory." )

On 26 Nov. 1808, Margaret and husband John Schroger, her brother Philip, sold their share of John Geil Sr. estate. Mary (Geil) Godshalk's two children Jacob Godshalk and Agnes (Godshalk) Overholt with husband David Overholt sold their share on the same deed.

They built near the home farm of Mary's parents, Ludwig Treiber (Lewis Driver) and Barbara (Sprinkle) Driver in the "Marsh Country" four miles west of New Market, VA. All their children were born there.

John Geil became a minister in 1840, serving at the Plains Mennonite Church (1826) in the New Market area. (See windowless Plains building on the masthead of this issue of SMH). Geil was most fluent preaching in German, but in his era Virginia Mennonites were turning to English. He preached some in English. In 1859

he drew the lot to become a Northern District bishop. He served during the Civil War, and lived to be 90 years old. He and his wife are buried at the Rife-Driver Cemetery on the Driver farm.\(^2\)

Minister/bishop John Geil and wife (Mary Driver) had the following children:

1. Sarah (b. 12 June 1823-d. 3 Feb. 1892), married to Abraham Wenger on 6 Apr. 1848.
3. Elizabeth (b. 13 Sept. 1826-d. 15 May 1904), became 3rd wife of John Heatwole.
4. Jacob (b. 31 Aug. 1828-d. 2 Sept 1917).
5. John (b. 27 Feb. 1830-d. 28 July 1900), married Catherine Beery on 8 Apr. 1852, ordained 5 Sept. 1875. Buried at Brennemans Mennonite Cemetery.
7. Mary (b. 25 Jan. 1834-d. 17 July 1884), married Solomon Beery on 5 May 1854.

Jacob Geil (b. 31 Aug. 1828) was a son of Bishop John and Mary (Driver) Geil, and grandson of Abraham and Mary (Garges) Geil. He married Mary (Wenger) (b. 21 May 1833- d. 16 Oct. 1909), the daughter of Joseph and Barbara (Beery) Wenger. He was ordained as a Mennonite deacon on 24 July 1860.

During the Civil War, he was responsible for collecting and paying the fines for poor church members as required by the Union Government. He successfully petitioned the Southern Claims Commission after the war for repayment of supplies and animals confiscated by Union troops during the war. He received $480 for his claim of $761. Testimony revealed the role Jacob played in moving men seeking to evade Confederate conscription toward safety in the North. Wife and daughter Catherine testified.\(^3\) Jacob and Mary Geil were both buried at Lindale Mennonite Cemetery.

The 1860 Rockingham County VA Census shows Joseph Wenger as the head of the household. His wife was Barbara. Their son was Joseph H., future author of the Geil History. They lived at the Wenger home farm near Linville/Edom, VA.

Joseph Wenger Geil (son of Jacob and Mary (Wenger) Geil) married Annie Rebecca Beery. He was ordained a Mennonite minister in 1896. He and Annie were buried at Lindale. They had six children, one of them being Noah Wilmer Geil who was ordained a Mennonite minister in 1922. Joseph and Mary (Wenger) Geil’s daughter Mary Kate “Kitty” was married to Samuel A. Shank, Mennonite minister.

Noah Wilmer and sister Mary Kate “Kitty” had a brother, Arthur Daniel, the grandfather of the author of this article, Eunice Geil Smith.

BOOK REVIEW

Finally, this enormous ten-year project has been completed with this sixth volume. This entire set adds invaluable Civil War information. We owe a tremendous debt to Wenger and Rodes, who compiled and transcribed the nearly 300 claims from the Southern Claims Commission Records in the National Archives, as well as editor, Emmert F. Bittinger, for their labor of love in this magnificent set of volumes that greatly enlarges our understanding of the Civil War.

The whole set involves nearly ten thousand pages of documentary material and numerous testimonies of what the war meant to many Rockingham County citizens. It is in this set we learn of the well-organized Unionist Underground Railroad that thrived to help conscientious objectors and others who wanted to avoid conscription into the Confederacy. (This railroad is not to be confused with the Underground Railroad normally covered by American historians for many decades.)

This last volume includes 49 claims and a number of helpful appendices, a few of which provide summaries. Mennonites and Brethren were very active in this clandestine Unionist Railroad that included over 30 depots or terminals. Thus many were enabled to escape northward or westward. Included is an appendix of the entire list of claimants. Helpful also is the listed names of the 70 plus men apprehended near Petersburg, Virginia (now West Virginia) who were sent to Richmond and imprisoned in Thunder Castle. Most of the men in that group were Brethren or Mennonite.

NEWS

We happily announce that Elwood Yoder (elyoder@gmail.com) has agreed to become editor of Shenandoah Mennonite Historian, beginning with the summer 2013 issue. He sees the editing of SMH as dovetailing with his ongoing writing and interest in congregational history and student work at EMHS. Readers will recall that Jim Lehman had earlier announced his resignation as editor of SMH and that he would be happy to assist as needed in making a smooth transition.

Readers and others are welcome to submit ideas for the furtherance of writing and editing Virginia Mennonite history and genealogy.
