OUR STORY

A Lifetime in the Arts

Papoluv began his martial arts journey in 1977, at age 11, in Brooklyn, New York, under Grandmaster Refredo Rodan. In the 1980s he expanded his practice with the legendary Moses Powell, known for his Iron Octopus system and his influence on Jiu-Jitsu. He also trained with his mentor, John “The Cop,” in Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, where he began developing and teaching Goju.

In 2015, he earned his black belt in Kali Eskrima and Arnis. Over the years, he has helped many people overcome addiction, some becoming teachers themselves. He still meditates daily — it remains the key to his growth.

He also practices Goju Ryu and holds a fifth-degree black belt, awarded by Grandmaster Hanshi Wilfredo Rodan of the Lower East Side, Manhattan, New York.

Now in Jacksonville, Florida, that lifetime of training has a home: Bold City Stick Fighting Association, Juego Todo USA. The art that carried him from Brooklyn to here is what he teaches every student who walks through the door.

Filipino Martial Arts

Papoluv brought two of these systems to the United States from the Philippines — Dugukan and San Miguel, from Cebu and Kakkar.
