

PERSONS RESPONSIBLE FOR SECURITY

In New York State, the exemption for person responsible for security applies to a house of worship only:

(c) any place of worship, except for those persons responsible for security at such place of worship;

The statute does not require that the authorization be in writing (while it's certainly a good idea).

New Jersey has the exemption across all sensitive locations, and it must be in writing:

“e. (1) Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the holder of a valid and lawfully issued permit under N.J.S.2C:58-4 who is lawfully authorized to provide security at a place enumerated in subsection a. of this section from carrying a firearm, openly or concealed, provided that the authorization is set forth in writing, and only to the extent permitted by the entity responsible for security at the place in question.”
