

How Hillary can become president.

First one has to accept that Trump is the valid president, constitutionally elected by the Electoral College. There is no evidence that Russia tampered with any state voting machines. Since The Electoral College does not utilize sophisticated balloting in their election and each state has its own method, it is virtually impossible for Russia to have hacked the Electoral College voting process.

Note that Russia was found guilty of posting $150,000 false ads on Facebook, both pro and con towards both parties. How much influence those ads made compared to the nearly $2 billion dollars spent by both the democrats and republicans is hard to fathom.

So here are the three scenarios for Hillary to become president.

- 1) VP Pence resigns or is impeached and Trump appoints Hillary as the new VP, both houses of congress approves the appointment, and then Trump resigns, dies or is impeached.
- 2) Democrats appoint Hillary Speaker of the House (speaker does not have to be an elected official) and then both Trump and Pence resign, dies or impeached.
- 3) Trump appoints Hillary to a cabinet position that is in the line of succession and then all higher placed successors resign, dies or is impeached.

So dreamers there is absolutely no chance Hillary can become president until the 2020 election and then it is unlikely the voters will support her campaign.
