Supporting Early Readers at Home – Live Webinar!

Summer presents unique opportunities for students to engage in enriching experiences beyond the traditional classroom. At the same time, it's equally crucial for students to maintain what they have already learned to ensure continuous academic progress and a smooth transition to the next grade level.

The question is, where do we begin?

We invite you to join us to learn about effective, interactive, and playful literacy strategies for early readers in TK-2nd grade. Gain insights into your child's reading development and how to best support them.
