

Permanent Living vs Permanent Structure

Current frameworks assume permanent housing must be fixed to land.

Tiny Houses on Wheels are lived in permanently but not fixed.

This creates a situation where the suitability of the dwelling is not in question — only the framework used to assess it.