“Working Together for Trees” – An OCICE and Associates Event

Sat. August 28 5 – 8 PM  -- Backyard Presentation and Vegetarian Potluck

2611 N. Linwood Ave., Santa Ana  92705

The Orange County Interfaith Coalition for the Environment, OCICE, and associated organizations in Orange County will be coming together in a common purpose of working to heal our environment through the planting and protection of trees in Orange County.

The event will include a brief presentation by each of these organizations working in tandem with OCICE to foster tree planting and care in our local communities.

There will be handouts and information on how each person can in one way or another contribute to the tree greening of OC.

This is a great opportunity to learn and get involved, and is also a set up for a larger gathering entitled – “All About Trees” to be held at Sisters of St. Joseph, Orange Campus, some Saturday in October 2021. TBA

RSVP/ ASAP as seating is limited to 30 guests. All must be vaccinated against the Coronavirus. Also, tell us what dish you will be providing for the potluck. Contact – rev.srederus@yahoo.com

Thank you.
