

hu-Man-ity

You're obsessed with control so much, you'll never relinquish he from her, man from woman, male from female. It is not mankind it is being kind.

Relinquish unjust, unbalanced burden, and share the weight with those we call human. Your claim to power is nothing more than a feeling of monotheistic value that you placed upon yourself. You exist with us, not for us. Share that responsibility and feel everlasting release.

Patriarchy will be our demise, but matriarchy won't stop the bleeding. Acknowledging and apologizing for wrongdoings will only bring about positive change. With acknowledgment comes your own personal responsibility for enabling others to lead in your stead.

Give power to the powerless, but never lose control of awareness. No one is to ever be enslaved into ownership again, but we should all feel indebted to one another. Give in to humility and release gender solidarity for equality.

Take off your glasses and realize that when you ignore flaws and negativity, you contribute to them, unwillingly and unconsciously. To see is to know, and to know is to be understood. Everything that makes us, us, creates identity. To exist in the vague and ambiguous, does nothing but blur our perception of each other. To address and express, creates dialogue and hopefully understanding. Where conflict is likely to arise, community should unveil its disguise.

To be human is to be equal.
