PRICELESS

COMMENTARY: THE SCIENCE OF INNER STRENGTH IS A SPIRITUAL VACCINE FOR THESE MOST CHALLENGING TIMES: FINDING YOUR GOODNESS IS THE FIRST STEP TO YOUR GREATNESS.

America: Adversity is our great teaching tool. Yes, times are tense; scary even for some. It is really a time of reckoning for America and the world. Challenge provides the opportunity to define the strength within us. The Science of Inner Strength helps you find the sacred spot within you and develop it, beginning with your goodness. By finding your inner strength, you will have purpose to persevere in any circumstances. Challenge also represents opportunity. Becomes one of those who recognizes the changes in our culture and provides leadership towards our future. Your inner strength also serves as the best marketing tool, and even a vaccine towards potential whims of sudden culture change and knee jerk over-reactions

The true leaders will be those, who recognize that victory is in doing well for yourself AND in influencing society for the better. In the way of helping you and America, I share three qualities that provide our spiritual vaccine:

- A.) Define your goodness. Find what it is about you that makes you special
- B.) Turn that goodness into a sense of purpose, able to overcome all challenges.
- C.) Share your purpose with the world to put you in the most enduringly positive light.

These qualities are the what America and the world need now. We do not need people, who mindlessly follow the crowd. Society needs leaders in companies, families, and individuals, who demonstrate the Science of Inner Strength strengths of integrity, determination, purpose, and compassion to lead society in a great direction.

Lovingly,

THE BATTLE FOR DECENCY CONTINUES

My life is showing that more than merely a battle among Democrat and Republican and that kind of thing; the real battle even for our "soul" is between our common good, and those who truly seek to denigrate and tear us apart. For one, there is a rise in extreme narcissistic, even psychopathic behaviors. These psychological terms are not teenage throw away lines; they represent a "vile" threat to our common good.

My personal experience in a more than thirty-two year saga beginning astoundingly with family dynamics, has revealed and I say it lovingly, that division between intense emotional selfishness; and those who rightly pursue their own interests, while having enough left for others. Our challenges are not about appropriate American ideals; they are about living up to those ideals in the judicial, financial, political, health care systems and so on.

My journey has momentarily taken a turn towards the United States Supreme Court, of all places. Who would have thought, little old me? The tool I bring forth is the Tort for the Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress. I aim to demonstrate the horrific nature of emotional abuse, and to take on the false notion of superiority in any form, AND above all else, promoting a sense of decency in America.

WE WILL GET THROUGH THIS AMERICA: MORE
THAN POLITICS:
IT IS DECENCY!

Having been in the political process a lifetime ago, with much love for America, I say that our solutions must be led in ways inside and outside our political system. There is too much strength in our people, too much common sense, too much resilience, to not put to work the wonderful ingenuity of the American people.

I aim to help shift the American mindset to what is genuinely great about us for all people, beginning with our goodness. I believe, the true societal leaders will come from those who develop their authenticity, individual and collective purpose, to compassionately lead America.

The Science of Inner Strength Honor is a route for true leaders in companies, government, families and even individuals to take their game to the next level, and influence society for the better.

A TWENTY-FOUR-YEAR CASE STUDY REVEALS THE TRUE DIVIDE IN AMERICA: AUTHENTICITY VERSUS FAKE SUPERIORITY: BE IT RACISM, ABUSE OF ANY KIND; THE TRUE CULPRIT RESIDES IN ARROGANCE
& THOSE WHO FALSELY BELIEVE THEY ARE BETTER THAN OTHERS

In these challenging times, one may wonder how a white male, a person seen as "privileged" can speak about inequality and abuse, and ultimately point a way to equality. What I have seen is that horrific treatment can exist anywhere in society. Racism, sexism have surely historically existed, and are the most obvious forms of denigration of others, by those in power.

I do not know everything, but I know that those awful behaviors, are symptoms; the root is that targeting groups of people, stems from a deep human insecurity that reflects weakness. For instance, horrors exist in our American court system in criminal justice, some policing and in horrors of our civil system, in divorce for one, where families can be eviscerated for profit.

Added to that is a general false sense of superiority which stems from those potentially with personality disorders, in the form of extreme narcissistic, borderline, and psychopathic. The key variable is a false effort to label and take down another person(s) as a false means of elevating oneself. I speak boldly about this, because, it happened outrageously in my own family setting, where my younger brother David Nathan Myers led an assault joined by his wife, Nomi Maya Stolzenberg of Los Angeles. I mention Nomi because, her mother Judith Levine of Cambridge, a therapist, also joined in, perhaps fooled by the situation. That confusion led to psychological perspectives, based again on false superiority. Feeling good enough, means we do not need to denigrate others, surely not for our own "success."

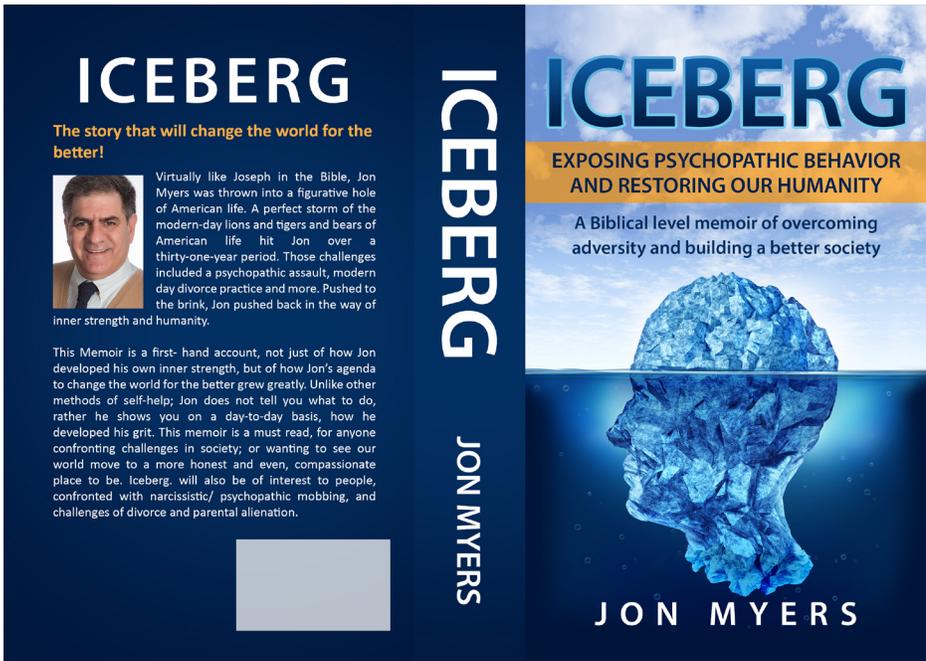

I saw all this because we do not need phony forms of denigrating others. Most of us, know our truth and can develop it further. Being authentic is the best path forward for America. I learned these lessons in my own life, I lovingly encourage my family, and share them more broadly with America.

One potential goal of Calm Interventions is to develop 500 entities who will achieve the Science of Inner Strength Honor. The Honor is the result of a high level of training and will let the world know you are one of its true champions.

CHANGING THE WORLD FOR THE BETTER: Iceberg: The story that will change the world for the better

ICEBERG

The story that will change the world for the better!

Virtually like Joseph in the Bible, Jon Myers was thrown into a figurative hole of American life. A perfect storm of the modern-day lions and tigers and bears of American life hit Jon over a thirty-one-year period. Those challenges included a psychopathic assault, modern day divorce practice and more. Pushed to the brink, Jon pushed back in the way of inner strength and humanity.

This Memoir is a first-hand account, not just of how Jon developed his own inner strength, but of how Jon's agenda to change the world for the better grew greatly. Unlike other methods of self-help; Jon does not tell you what to do, rather he shows you on a day-to-day basis, how he developed his grit. This memoir is a must read, for anyone confronting challenges in society; or wanting to see our world move to a more honest and even, compassionate place to be. Iceberg. will also be of interest to people, confronted with narcissistic/ psychopathic mobbing, and challenges of divorce and parental alienation.
