Who Do You Say That I Am?

FR. THOMAS M. SANTA, CSSR

“Who do people say that the Son of Man is?” An easy answer if you just report what other people say and what you have heard. No commitment. No revelation. No risk. But it all changes when the question is more to the point: “Who do you say that I am?” Tell me what you know, not what you heard. The silence is almost deafening. Vulnerability, not just anonymous reporting, is required in the asked-for response. No surprise—it is Peter who answers. Never one to hide his emotions or edit his thoughts, it is Peter who reveals what he knows, perhaps even what he is unsure of, perhaps the truth that he only hopes for but has not yet declared. “You are the Messiah, the Son of the Living God” (Matthew 16:16).

Jesus responds with a prayer of blessing; the apostles, on the other hand, remain silent. Although we are very familiar with Peter’s assent of faith, his declaration was almost unheard-of or unexpected from a first-century Jewish man. It was dangerous to identify someone as Messiah. It was blasphemous to name someone as the Son of the Living God. Yet, in faith and humility, Peter made the declaration and, in the naming, entrusted his life, his hope, and all that he believed firmly into the hands of Jesus. This was no simple act. This was no ordinary day. ●

Dear Padre,
Can a non-Catholic serve and hold an office in a Catholic parish organization?

According to their knowledge, competence, and position, the Christian faithful have an obligation to assist in the necessary works of the Church and promote the common good of the parish—its worship, its apostolic mission, its charities, the care of its ministers, and its care of the poor. (See Code of Canon Law, 222.) In general, canon law and most diocesan regulations stipulate that members of primary decision-making entities must be active, registered Catholics who participate in the sacramental life of the Church. For example, members of a pastoral council must be “in full communion with the Catholic Church” (CCL 512 §1). However, non-Catholics—such as spouses of parishioners or experts in their fields (e.g., finance, law, architecture)—are sometimes invited to lend their skills by serving on advisory boards and committees or in other support roles that are usually in a non-voting capacity. In all cases, the pastor or bishop has the discretion to involve non-Catholics in specific initiatives. For instance, a bishop “can invite as observers to the diocesan synod other ministers or members of churches or ecclesial communities which are not in full communion with the Catholic Church” (CCL, 463 §3). A non-Catholic interested in serving should consult the local priest about available opportunities, based on the norms of a diocese. ●

A WORD FROM POPE LEO XIV

I genuinely hope that our Christian lifestyle will always reflect this fraternal, “Samaritan” spirit—one that is welcoming, courageous, committed, and supportive, rooted in our union with God and our faith in Jesus Christ. Enkindled by this divine love, we will surely be able to give of ourselves for the good of all who suffer, especially our brothers and sisters who are sick, elderly, or afflicted.

A New School Year at Immaculate Conception School

By: Lila Broz, Member of the School Advisory Board

A new school year is underway at Immaculate Conception School, and there is a wonderful sense of excitement as 40 students begin another year of learning, growing, and building friendships together.

This year’s faculty includes Mrs. Megan Rogers in Kindergarten and first grade; <Ms. Dana Schroeder in first and second grades; Mrs. Cristal Castillo in third and fourth grades; Mrs. Gina Smith in fifth and sixth grades; Mr. Gary Doerhoff in eighth grade; and Mrs. Carol Odean teaching physical education. Art and music will be offered quarterly by Mrs. Rachel Weekley, while Miss Dottie Brueggen teaches religion and study skills. Ms. Dana Schroeder also serves as principal. Mrs. Anna Harrell is the school secretary. There are no seventh-grade students enrolled this year.

I had the opportunity to visit with Principal Ms. Dana Schroeder and two students, Adleigh Ferguson, a second grader, and Dexter Park, a fifth grader, about what they are looking forward to this school year.

When asked what Catholic education means to her, Ms. Schroeder had a beautiful answer, “it is about building saints out of our students.” Sheh explained that what makes Immaculate Conception special is the opportunity for the faculty and staff to build meaningful relationships with their students and their families. The school strives to meet each child’s needs-not only academically, but also mentally, emotionally, and spiritually.

Ms. Schroeder also emphasized that families play an important role in a successful school year. When parents and families support the teachers and work together with the school, everyone benefits-especially the students.

It seems Ms. Schroeder has always appreciated being active. Her favorite subject when she was in elementary school was physical education. She admitted that she struggled in school, but she knew she was athletic-a reminder that every child has different strengths and gifts.

Second grader Adleigh Ferguson is especially excited about having a new teacher this year. Her favorite part of school is making new friends. When asked what she would do if she could be the teacher for a day, Adleigh had a plan that many students would probably enjoy. “Watch movies all day while eating popcorn and drinking soda!” Adleigh also shared that math is one of her strengths.

Fifth grader Dexter Park is looking forward to learning more about World War II. He is especially excited about science because, as he put it, “Science is interesting.” Dexter also understands that kindness is an important part of being a good classmate. He plans to show kindness by helping other students with their work. Of course, Dexter has one suggestion for improving school: he would like to have half days!

As the 2026-2027 school year begins, it is clear that Immaculate Conception School is much more than a place where children learn their lessons. It is a community where students are known, supported, encourage, and guided in their faith. With dedicated teachers, supportive families, and students who are eager to learn, make friends, and grow, Immaculate Conception is ready for another wonderful school year.

Here's to a year filled with learning, laughter, friendship, faith, and many opportunities for our students to grow into the young people God is colling them to be. May God bless our students, teachers, families, and the entire Immaculate Conception School community throughout the coming year!

Please see pictures of the first day of school on the back of this page.
