

KNOW BEFORE YOU GO!

Whether sailing through the Mediterranean or kicking back at an all-inclusive resort in the Caribbean, our travel tools and resources will help make planning your trip easy. Simply visit the appropriate link(s) below.

HEALTH

Familiarize yourself with conditions of the destinations that could affect your health. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) offer general guidance on country-specific health warnings, vaccinations and other precautions. Visit: <http://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel>

CURRENCY CONVERSION

Ever wonder the value of a Vietnamese Dong? Find out how much you'll get for the U.S. Dollar (USD) in other countries. Visit: <http://www.xe.com/>

FEDERAL AVIATION ADMINISTRATION (FAA)

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is responsible for the safety of civil aviation. The site offers multiple air travel safety resources and information. Visit: <http://www.faa.gov/travelers/>

PREPARATION FOR AIR TRAVEL

Educate yourself and make airport travel a snap with security checkpoint wait times, baggage tips, weather and flight delays, and information on passengers with disabilities. Visit: http://www.faa.gov/travelers/prepare\_fly/

PASSENGER SAFETY

Learn more about turbulence, health, safety, and approved electronics in flight. Visit: http://www.faa.gov/travelers/fly\_safe/

FLYING WITH CHILDREN

Keep your little ones safe when you're in the air.

Visit: http://www.faa.gov/travelers/fly\_children

INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL

Prepare yourself for a wonderful international flight.

Visit: http://www.faa.gov/travelers/international\_travel/

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF STATE

A service of the Bureau of Consular Affairs (CA), its mission is to protect the lives and interest of American citizens abroad and to strengthen the security of United States borders through vigilant adjudication of visas and passports. Their vision is to help American citizens engage the world. Click on the link below to learn more.

Visit: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en.html>

TRAVEL ALERTS & WARNINGS

- Alerts are issued to disseminate information about short-term conditions, either transnational or within a particular country, that poses significant risks to the security of U.S. citizens.
- Warnings are issued when long-term, protracted conditions that make a country dangerous or unstable lead the State Department to recommend that Americans avoid or reconsider the risk of travel to that country.

Visit: <https://travel.state.gov/content/passports/en/alertswarnings.html>

PREPARING YOUR CURRENCY IN ADVANCE

Before leaving home, it's a great idea to bring some of the local currency with you, since many vendors may not accept credit cards! Currencies from around the world are able to be delivered to your door. Visit:

<https://order.ceifx.com/>

