IS YOUR CHILD GOING AWAY TO COLLEGE?

Make Sure Their Insurance Doesn't Go Away Too!

Hold On – You Might Be Forgetting Something!

Okay, your son or daughter has a notebook or laptop for power lectures, a futon for the dorm room and snacks for late night studying. Everything is set as they embark on their college journey. But hold on – you might be forgetting something! Although it may not seem like a top priority right now, insurance is a concern all college students need to think about. Having the right type of insurance can provide vital protection during years when most people can ill-afford any major setbacks.

For further information or questions, we are happy to review this with you.

THINGS TO CONSIDER

Whether students are covered on their parents' policies or need their own coverage depends on their status as a full time student among other things. Some questions to consider and talk to your professional agent about...

- ✓ Car insurance – commuting to school?
- ✓ Taking a vehicle or driving someone else's?
- ✓ Does other car owner/driver have coverage?
- ✓ Renters insurance – stay in a dorm or apartment?
- ✓ Transporting items to school? What about identity theft?
- ✓ Liability for injuries or damage to property of others?
- ✓ Accidental damage to dorm or apartment?
- ✓ Health insurance – single & dependant? Does your health plan cover international trips?
- ✓ Tuition insurance - due to health or family issue could result in loss of fees.
- ✓ Travel insurance – going on spring break? Out of U.S? What about lost luggage, trip cancellation? Health coverage? Rental car?
- ✓ Life insurance – in the event of an untimely death of a student or parent, who will pay for the loans (car & student loans?) What about final expenses, travel cost, etc?

Gunner's Great Garage:

www.GunnersGreatGarage.com

Press Release

John Gunnell of Gunner's Great Garage (two miles north of downtown Manawa on the highway) has been reviving an art career that he had dreamed of pursuing in the mid- to late-1970s. In those days, a much younger "Gunner" was studying art at Richmond College in Staten Island, N.Y. He had the opportunity to study under two well-known artists: Pat Passlof, an abstract expressionist and Lennart Anderson, who did representational paintings and later taught at the Brooklyn Museum of Art. He graduated in 1975, by which time he had started a writing career. In 1978, Gunnell moved to Iowa, Wis., to become an editor at Krause Publications. He did a little artwork in 1979, then his writing about classic cars started taking up more and more of his time.

Last fall, Gunnell signed up for an oil painting class at Fox Valley Technical College in Waupaca and started painting again. Last Friday (July 19) he even skipped the Iowa Car Show and the Manawa Downtown Car Show to attend the opening of an art show called "Visions" at the Riverfront Art Center (RAC) in Stevens Point. The RAC is in the former Stevens Point Chamber of Commerce building near the riverfront park. The show featured the works of about 30 area artists and Gunnell's painting of a barn called "Acorn Acres" was accepted for the show.

Gunnell is also planning to enter RAC's fall "Blues Effect" show, where all artworks must be at least 90 percent blue. In addition, he is currently waiting to hear if the two paintings he submitted to a Fall Art Show at Nicolet College will be accepted for that national event. And he will be exhibiting at the Manawa Art Tour, also taking place this fall. So far, John has turned out a series of paintings of barns and nautical subjects. He has set up an art studio at Gunner's Great Garage and anyone interested in seeing his work or talking about art can visit any time he's at the shop. He is also interested in painting specific barns in the Manawa/Little Wolf areas.

John Gunnell can be contacted at gunnellj@TDS.net or 1-715-281-5925.

JOURNALISM MATTERS - NOW MORE THAN EVER

Public Celebrations Being Planned
Submitted by Dr. Melanie J. Oppor

The School District of Manawa and Hoffman Planning, Design, & Construction, Inc. are working collaboratively to plan a variety of community-wide events. It is one way to show appreciation for all of the ongoing community support for the two referenda that passed in November 2018. Please come and celebrate three major milestones for the district and allow us to thank you in person! Watch for more upcoming details on the following events:
