

“LA YUMA” BACKGROUND - Keith Devrey

Back to It:

After my release from a brutal South Texas jail, I met a very young, very attractive Cuban desertora at a Cuban bodega soccer broadcast. She had many recent violent and frightening experiences on her long journey to the U.S., and we quickly bonded. We became friends, which deepened into a meaningful love affair.

One day we had a date. She didn't show. I called and got no response. I just figured I'd been ghosted. But I was concerned. Went to her apartment. No one.

Checked with the management: ICE raid, she and her friend ~ Vanished.
