Vol. 2 No. 1. January 2021

January Message From CEO

Happy New Year, 2021! With a new year comes a lot of new possibilities. We are really looking forward to this new year and providing more pathways to career development, employment success and economic growth.

Pathways to career development occur with greater results when you consider resources such as a mini course that helps you prepare to respond when someone says: "So, tell me about yourself." Most people shudder and stammer when talking about themselves. The IntroEdge™ course gives you the tools to make this moment you to shine with poise and confidence to know just what to say, how to say it and when in the flow to say it that makes a great and lasting first impression. You may also opt to record this introduction and place it in your LinkedIn profile! This is a great way to stand out from your competition and get on the short list!

Employment success continues with our Guaranteed Employment Positions. The best part of these positions is you are not competing for the job; if you meet the job requirements, the job is yours. In 2020, my team placed 75 people in fast food and work at home customer service positions. We are continuing to receive more guaranteed employment positions and will continue to place people accordingly. This is exciting for us since we know that these positions are the means to support yourself and your family!

Economic growth individually and collectively is what we anticipate for 2021. We have several pathways that we have developed that will help you gain employment, have a lasting career, begin a business or an organization, write and publish a book, and even how you can supplement your income working anytime on legitimate, safe websites completing mini tasks, getting paid per task.

So, thank you for giving us the pleasure and privilege of working with you and helping you have a great new year!
