

Molico Group Launches Canberra Office

Molico group has officially launched its Canberra office, to better serve the region with media, intelligence, data and management consulting services.

Several Canberra based partner businesses already work with Molico, ensuring the local market is provided a bespoke and unrivalled offering. Having a physical presence and staff in the region will provide an opportunity for improved response and support activities, ensuring clients receive the best possible experience when dealing with Molico.

Molico CEO Mike Johnson said:

“The addition of a Canberra based office demonstrates a commitment to clients and the broader ACT economic region, that Molico is willing and able to support local businesses in their efforts to grow. We can also focus on attracting and retaining local talent, which will provide local knowledge and foster stronger networks.”

The new office is located on Northbourne Avenue in Dickson, surrounded by a vibrant community of corporate, residential and retail establishments.
