

Additional Information

1. BWC Footage (May 2023 incident)

- Officer Young: Body cam shows distressed female, tears running down her cheeks. Her shirt is ripped. She slurs when responding to questions and looks at her feet and her hands as she speaks.
- Officer Stanton: Body cam shows calm male with visible injuries to his face. Male is standing in front of two children on the porch, blocking their view. He maintains eye contact and allows officers to enter the home. BWC deactivated.

2. Interview with neighbor who called 911 (May 2023 incident)

- On 5/20/23, Officer Young interviewed Anthonia Roberts, who had called 911 on 5/19/23 after hearing yelling coming from the Adams' house. She told Officer Young that she also heard yelling the night before on 5/18/23 but did not call the cops. Roberts stated that over the five years she has lived next door to the Adams' family, there have been more than ten occasions when she has heard a "man yelling, a woman crying, and banging noises" coming from the Adams' residence. She said that in September of last year, she had called the police because she had heard the children crying while the parents were fighting.

3. Conversation with Anna Alvarez, Victim Advocate

- Anna Alvarez, Victim Advocate with the Prosecutor's Office Victim-Witness Unit got into contact with Eva Adams on 5/20/23 by dialing her mother's home phone. When Anna asked Eva if she felt safe, Eva sounded nervous and said, "There are times when I don't feel safe," and "I'm scared." Eva then interrupted herself, saying, "It will only make things worse if I do this—please don't call here again." She then hung up.

4. Interview with Donna Rice (Eva Adams' Mother)

- On 5/23/23 Investigator Jones went to the residence of Donna Rice, Eva's mother. Donna confirmed that Eva and the children had stayed with her a couple of days following the arrest of Anthony Adams. She said that Eva had admitted to her that, on the evening of 5/19/23, Anthony pinned her up against the wall and held her up by her throat. For a few seconds, Eva couldn't breathe. When Anthony let Eva go, he said, "Next time, I won't stop."
- Donna stated that she does not get along with her son-in-law and that he has told her to stay away from Eva and the kids. She said that the only way she was typically able to see Eva and the children was to coordinate grocery shopping schedules. Donna stated that she saw bruise on Eva several times, but Eva would just shake her head when asked how she got the injuries. Donna said that once, when she called Eva, she heard Anthony threaten to “kick her ass” if Eva did not get off the phone.

5. Jail Calls

- On 5/20/23, defendant Anthony Adams made a call to the home telephone number of Donna Rice (victim’s mother). In pertinent part, the conversation included the following exchange:

Anthony Adams: Baby, I miss you.
Eva Adams: I miss you too. Please don’t be mad.
Anthony Adams: I’m stuck babe. I can’t work from here. I can’t help you from here. Did my lawyer call? You can talk to him, you don’t need to talk to the prosecutor about anything.
Eva Adams: But I’m scared. I don’t want to get in trouble.
Anthony Adams: You won’t get in trouble, just listen to my lawyer. Let me talk to Maggie.
Maggie Adams: Hi Daddy, where are you?
Anthony Adams: I’m okay baby. Just listen. If a lady asks you about Daddy, tell her that you want to see your daddy—you miss him. All right?
Maggie Adams: I know.

6. Summary of Forensic Interview with Child

- On 5/26/2023 Investigator Jones responded to the Children's Advocacy Center (CAC) for a scheduled Forensic Interview (FI) of Maggie Adams. Investigator Jones watched the FI from another room via closed circuit and observed the following:
- Maggie was asked if she knew why she was at the CAC today. Maggie stated that she did and stated it was because of the things that her dad does to her mom.
- When asked what “things” her dad does to her mom, Maggie stated, “Daddy hits her... sometimes he makes it so she can’t speak. I hear Mommy crying a lot.” The FI asked what “things” happened the last time the police came. Maggie stated, “Mommy tried to leave again, but Daddy wouldn’t let her. Daddy gets mean when Mommy leaves. He pulled her shirt and she pushed him away. Daddy saw me looking and yelled at me.” Maggie began to cry. She said her daddy told her not to tell and he would be mad.

7. Air Tag Incident

- On 5/17/23 Officers Melendez and Jackson was dispatched to Flanagan’s Bar and Grill after receiving a 911 call from the hostess, Cathy Hontar, who reported there were two people fighting in the restaurant. Upon arrival, a male ran out the front door of the restaurant. Officer Jackson gave chase as Melendez entered the restaurant and observed a female (later identified as Eva Adams) sitting by the hostess stand, visibly shaken and crying. Next to her was a purse with the contents scattered on the floor. Eva was holding what appeared to be a microchip and cried, “what is this?” The item was later determined to be an Air Tag. Eva stated, “I was just getting lunch with my mom. He kept asking me who I was on a date with. I’ve never seen this microchip thing before. He’s following me again.” Officer Jackson was unable to locate the male subject.

8. Facebook Post

- On 6/3/2023, Investigator Jones examined Anthony Adams’ public profile page on Facebook, a social media platform where members can create text and/or multimedia posts of personal interest to the creator. Investigator Jones examined the history of posts for the profile and recognized numerous photos depicting Anthony, Eva, their children, and their residence. Investigator Jones discovered the following post that was updated on 5/29/2023:

I just found out my bitch of a wife let our little girl be dragged into a police station and interviewed by the police about a fight she started! If this doesn’t stop, I am going to let the whole world know what a crappy mother she is. She neglects our kids and she brought women home for us to have sex with. I have pictures to prove this!

Investigator Jones saved screenshots of the available posts from the Facebook profile page referenced above from January 1, 2019 through to June 3, 2023.
