Helping the Community

Supporting legacy giving in Hampton Roads

You can't take it with you, according to the famous adage, but the majority of Americans are planning to do just that. That's because over half (55%) of all adult Americans do not have a will. Only a fraction of those will make a bequest. Imagine how much good could be done if each of us remembered a favorite charity in our will or estate plan.

Become a Member of HRGPC

You may only spend a small portion of time on planned giving, but we can help you make that time as effective as possible. Whether you are a fundraiser, financial professional or lawyer, membership in the Hampton Roads Gift Planning Council will keep you abreast of the latest trends in planned giving and tax law changes.

As a movement to increase legacy giving in Hampton Roads, we share a commitment to a common cause and a genuine desire to help each other. This allows us to connect with people at a time when they are making very important decisions not only for their heirs but for the charities they have supported throughout their life.

The Hampton Roads Gift Planning Council is a non-profit organization created in 2004 to help educate and train the gift planning community and allied professionals. In order to fulfill these objectives, the HRGPC hosts live programs, and other activities throughout the year.

HRGPC membership includes gift-planning professionals from a variety of academic, religious, health, cultural, environmental and social organizations, as well as consultants and advisors such as attorneys, accountants, financial and estate planners, trust administrators, and investment and insurance specialists.

“We are all working together for the benefit of the client and the nonprofit. Since estate planning law and practices constantly change, we need an organization like the Council, that can bring specialized education to everyone involved in the process.”
