AI Integrators Council Supports AI Sandbox Legislation

Council looks forward to working with Senator Ted Cruz on his newly introduced AI bill

WASHINGTON, DC, September 11, 2025 – Today, the AI Integrators Council issued a statement of support for Senator Ted Cruz, Chairman of the Senate Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, on the introduction of his new bill, the SANDBOX Act, to promote US leadership in AI:

“The AI Integrators Council, the leading voice for companies working to integrate artificial intelligence models into systems, platforms and applications, supports Chairman Cruz’s introduction of the SANDBOX Act of 2025 and his effort to spur innovation in AI. We look forward to working with the Chairman to ensure all AI Integrators are appropriately recognized as a key part in the AI ecosystem and value chain.”

The bill would create a federal AI regulatory sandbox that would “allow any AI user or developer to seek temporary waivers or modifications of federal rules or regulations to test, experiment with, or temporarily offer AI products and services...” The White House Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP) would be tasked with coordinating agency reviews, applications detailing benefits and risks, regular congressional reporting, and a program launch within one year.

“Chairman Cruz’s SANDBOX Act of 2025 is a smart step toward unleashing American AI innovation while keeping safeguards in place. The AI Integrators Council stands ready to collaborate to ensure integrators receive the recognition they deserve in the AI ecosystem.” — Wes McClelland, Executive Director, AI Integrators Council.

The AIIC is made up of leading AI companies including Alteryx, Atlassian, Box, Cognizant, Docusign, Peraton, SAIC, Salesforce, and Twilio. Additional information on the Council can be found at AIIntegratorsCouncil.com
