Brandmeyer Popcorn Company, processor and packager of Iowa State and Lotta-Pop Popcorn, has been doing business for over 50 years. You've seen our popcorn on store shelves throughout the Midwest and have tasted it at the many events which it is served.

Alonzo "Lonnie" Brandmeyer started the company in 1969. At that time, popcorn was harvested and stored on the ear for protection. After the popcorn was dried to the correct moisture, it was shelled and prepared for packaging. With today's advancements in technology and speed, we no longer need to harvest the popcorn on the ear. We carefully grow and pick our hybrids to produce the best quality product possible.

Lonnie developed the Lottapop name and logo. He combined the "Lo" from his name and "tta" from his wife's name, Theatta.
