Kit has had 120 days of riding but don't let that little bit of riding fool you. She's been exposed to just about everything in that time including gathering cattle, working gates, loading trucks, drug calves, lightly started on the cutting flag, had guns shot off her, carried flags, the kids have taken her swimming, hog hunted and trail rode! She can be really quick footed and wants to really stop! She would make a cool little calf or heel horse. She has never offered to buck, bolt, or be watchy at all, we haven't found anything that she's scared of yet. She's also hauled to a few team ropings and barrel races for exposure. I can't say enough good things about this mares mentality, she is gentle and ready for whatever you want to do with her. She shoes, bathes, leads, loads, ties. We bought her sight unseen and she was a little thin and just way too small for my other half he's 6'4" that's the ONLY reason she is for sale at no fault of her own. We had big plans for her. She is bred the very best and the opportunity's are endless as to what her career could be in or out of the arena. She rides in a bosal or O ring snaffle and a yo-yo currently.
