CRACKER
9 y/o Bay Gelding

Cracker is a 9 year old gelding standing 13.3 hands. Even though he is grade, this is a very well put together little dude that would make an excellent ranch pony for someone. He has been day worked on, worked cows, roped cattle, been heeled on in the arena and has won buckles at sorting events. He gets around great with a good handle and stop. This horse is bombproof. I've got on him fresh after a month off and he is still the same. My grandma has pushed cows on him and kids have been all over him. He is great with any situation, he just needs a job. He loves to work a cow and will get you through a whole day without getting worn out. He has good feet so I do not keep shoes on him. I believe a handy kid would love him. He sells sound.

Annie is a 19 year old mare standing 14.2 hands. She's a finished barrel and pole horse, you can also breakaway on her. We have been heeling the dummy on her, she's one handed broke and rides by your feet. She's very quick on her feet and she's catty. Annie does great working cattle. She's calm and cool in the pasture but can turn up the heat in the arena if asked. She would be a good step up horse for a handy youth rider. She's currently being used as a barrel and pole practice horse, for a 9 year old, and roped on by adults. Annie does great at the rodeos, she hauls and loads great, has been x-rayed and she's clean. We do give her equinox anti-inflammatory tablets if she's being rode hard for multiple days in a row, but other than that she requires no maintenance, she stays shod.

If you're looking for a super nice, athletic, all around horse Lincoln is one to take a good look at! Lincoln has tracked the roping sled on both the head and heel side (never live cattle). He's patterned on the poles and barrels, he's ponied horses and has taken it all with a stride! Lincoln will lope right off in the correct leads on a slack rein. He has a nice turn around and a solid stop! Lincoln is quiet and gentle with big soft brown eyes. I wouldn't call him a kids horse simply because he can move around when asked. Lincoln was the first horse I ever owned, I've owned him for 2.5 years and he's never taken a lame step. The only reason Lincoln is being sold is because I'm moving and can't take him with me, he was never going to be sold. Whoever buys him will fall in love with him just as I did!

She has no spook and doesn't do anything silly. She's gentle enough for an experienced kid to finish her out. Minnie is a really sweet horse looking for her next person to love. She's super easy to catch, she comes when you call her. Minnie ties, loads, you name it. Her only quirk is she won't back out of the trailer for me and has to be turned around. She did however back out with her previous owner, she can also be dominant at feeding time. She was recently vetted, she does have a couple spots on her back but they don't phase her. She has never been injected but I do think she could eventually benefit from having her hocks done. I bought Minnie with intentions to resell her once I had her tuned up and going. I'm happy to keep this mare in training and get her finished out for the buyer as well. I will be staying at the sale until she goes through so I'm happy to take her back home with me and finish her training if buyer wants to get together.

RANGER

13 y/o Bay Gelding

Ranger is a 13 year old ranch gelding standing 15 hands. He's beginner safe for any rider. Ranger has been a using horse on a ranch for most of his life, but has lately been used for playday events. He is the horse you will rely on to keep beginner riders safe. Ranger is the kind of horse you can trust to haul your kids around the property, take on trails, and take to playdays. He is forgiving with beginners and will take it easy with them, but when asked he will get up and go. He can side pass to open gates, neck reins, and moves easily off of leg pressure! He has NEVER bucked, kicked, reared, bolted, or anything like that. He has been used to rope off of and knows how to stretch one out. He's been used here and there for barrels and knows the pattern. Ranger crosses water, bridges, and rides on the road; he will go anywhere you point him. I've taken him out in the national forest solo and with a group and he does great either way. I haven't found anything that bothers this horse. He is sane and not spooky. I've thrown various random tasks at him and he does the right thing every time. He is an easy going, laid back gelding that thinks he is a big dog. He will follow you around the pasture and is an in your pocket type of horse.

CHROME
16 y/o Sorrel Gelding

Chrome is a 16 year old gelding standing 14.3 hands. He's a finished heel horse that will go all day, all night, and do whatever you ask of him. Chrome is laid back and fun to ride doing anything and everything. He will work yearlings all day, jackpot all night, then ranch rodeo the next day, it doesn't matter to him. Chrome is solid from the #12s down, but do not count him out on fresh steers. He's athletic, scores solid, and gives you consistent runs every time. He is the same horse everyday it doesn't matter how long he's been off. He requires no maintenance and has no vices, but he is not a kids horse.

"Beau" is an 8 year old registered The Jockey Club thoroughbred gelding standing 16.3 hands. He's patterned on the barrels and ready for someone to finish him out. Beau requires no maintenance besides shoes with clips on his front feet. He just had his teeth floated and coggins done. He has a very sweet demeanor (huge puppy dog). Beau is still getting used to loud, busy environments as he hasn't been hauled much and is still in the training process. He would best suit an experienced rider. The reason I'm selling him is simply because I don't have the time or means to haul/enter him. I know he will benefit from someone who can give him the attention and time he needs.

"Pepper" is a 15 year old mare standing 15 hands and is truly one of a kind! She has been nothing but perfect for her current owners, a 65 and 70 year old couple who have been using her for ranch work and family fun. You can point her in any direction and she'll go. She's easygoing and willing to do anything. Angel is a 9 year old mare standing 14.2 hands with the kind of mind that makes her enjoyable to have around. She is easygoing and willing, whether you are riding her around the ranch, heading down a trail, or spending the day working cattle. She has been ridden through trails, tall brush, creeks, and wooded areas and takes it all in stride without making a big deal out of new surroundings. She has a good foundation under the saddle, is one hand broke, and responds well to leg pressure. We have also started roping off of her and spending time in the pasture, pens, and working cattle giving her some real world experiences. Her quiet and sensible nature makes her a nice mare for the whole family. She is the type of horse that you can saddle up and go ride without having to worry about every little thing she comes across. From crossing a creek and riding through thick brush to working cattle or spending a day on the trails, she stays relaxed and willing to go wherever you point her. With her combination of a calm disposition, trail experience, cattle work, and roping foundation, she would make a versatile mare for someone wanting a horse they can enjoy both around the ranch and out on the trail.
