1. A Message from the Program Director

Dear students,

I would like to personally welcome you to the Philadelphia English Language Institute.

As Executive Program Director of this school, it is my mission to provide visionary leadership and manifest our shared school goals. This responsibility is rewarding to me because it truly pleases me to see our students develop and grow as individuals while they are learning English.

I began my career in the ESL field as a teacher in 2003, and today I am confident that as a director who understands the teacher experience and students' needs I have much to offer. I have devoted much time and energy to solidify my vision of a school that continually improves its quality and furthers students' maturity and development as new citizens.

This school is a very special place for our community. It is a place where people come from many countries to learn, practice, and advance their English skills in a comfortable and friendly setting.

I invite you to actively participate in all the activities the school offers our students. Many students who complete our courses often find better job opportunities and some even continue their studies at the post-secondary level in colleges and universities. I hope that as you complete this and other courses you will gain confidence communicating in a variety of different situations. I am very proud of our history supporting students at PELI. As Program Director, I am personally invested in choosing the most dedicated and experienced instructors to guide you along your learning path.

Our school is a vital asset to the Philadelphia community and as a student here you now belong to this community and help make it a better place for future generations.

Make the best of your time here. Daily persistence brings future rewards!

Yours sincerely,

Arian Fernandes Pereira
Executive Program Director

3. About the Philadelphia English Language Institute

The Philadelphia English Language Institute (PELI) is a language school offering courses suitable for both working adults and those looking for intensive programs. Founded in 2007, the Philadelphia English Language Institute has been a vital part of the immigrant community of Northeast Philadelphia.

In 2015, Arian Fernandes Pereira and Leonardo Francisco de Jesus Ribeiro, the current owners, took over and began implementing new English programs and expanding the school services. The school recently expanded to a second building, continuing the tradition of being a multicultural hub on Castor Avenue.

In 2023, PELI achieved accreditation from CEA (Commission on English Language Program Accreditation) and in 2024 will begin offering intensive English courses to international students.

4. Intensive English Program (IEP)

Our Intensive English Program (offered new in 2024) serves international and domestic students with varying levels of English proficiency. IEP will help students meet their academic, professional, and personal goals. More specifically, the program:

1. Provides students with integrated instruction in grammar, reading, writing, and speaking.
2. Focuses on English for high-level daily communication and academic study.
3. Facilitates students' accommodation in the college culture in the USA.

Our six-level program, ranging from beginner (A1) to advanced (C1), is student-centered and integrates all language skills with contextualized practice at each level. Courses offer immersive, relevant speaking and listening to build confidence and give students the opportunity to learn and work collaboratively with others.

Alongside integrated English language courses at six levels, the program also offers elective classes which include Conversation, Pronunciation, and American Culture. All intensive English courses require a minimum of 18 hours of study per week. Therefore, students enrolled in intensive English courses may be required to attend specific elective classes to meet the minimum hour class requirements.

At PELI, students will learn with our experienced and professional instructors among a diverse range of learners. Our school is prepared to offer a safe and comfortable environment for learning, practicing, and building fluency in English.

Accreditation

The Philadelphia English Language Institute is accredited by the Commission on English Language Program Accreditation for the period December 2022 through December 2023 and agrees to uphold the CEA Standards for English Language Programs and Institutions. CEA is recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education as a nationally recognized accrediting agency for English language programs and institutions in the U.S. For further information about this accreditation, please contact CEA, 1001 N. Fairfax Street, Suite 630, Alexandria, VA 22314, (703) 665-3400, www.cea-accredit.org.

The Philadelphia English Language Institute is authorized under Federal Law to enroll nonimmigrant alien students. School Search | Study in the States \(dhs.gov\) .

5. Student Services

A. Tutoring Services

The Philadelphia English Language Institute offers one-on-one English language tutoring with a focus on grammar, pronunciation, conversation, and vocabulary development.

We offer private classes between 11am - 7pm, Mondays through Thursdays. The price for tutoring is $50/hour. Each tutoring session is typically one hour long.

Tutoring is offered based on teacher availability. To request tutoring, email us at admissions@pelischool.org.

B. Student Advising

We offer academic and personal advising to students. Current students can sign up for a 30-minute appointment with an academic advisor. During the initial advising appointment, the advisor will complete intake with the student. Advisors also complete case notes after each meeting to track the students' progress and goals.

1. Academic advising provides resources and information regarding the academic expectations of the students' course. We strive to prepare students for the American standard of higher education, starting with their current courses. Students and Advisors can work together to set educational goals and discuss the students' progress towards the next course level. Advisors can assist students with issues relating to placement, attendance, advancing or repeating levels, and dismissal. Academic Advising is also where students can exchange feedback and suggestions about the program or course.

It is our duty to support students so that they make satisfactory progress. If a teacher identifies a student who is struggling or not making satisfactory progress, they should refer the student to Academic Advising. Similarly, any student who is in danger of failing or losing status should be referred to Academic Advising. Teachers may also refer any student who they think will benefit from advising. Any student may choose to receive advising if they want additional support, regardless of their progress in the course.

2. Personal advising helps students map out career goals, access public services and benefits, clarify documents, and find relevant tools or resources for the individual. Advisors will refer students to the appropriate resources given the particular needs of the student. This service also supports students who may experience culture shock or require explanations of American academic, occupational, or social culture.

Students should contact the student advisor (lmetzler@pelischool.org) to schedule an appointment.

C. Other Services

Besides ESL and other language training, the Philadelphia English Language Institute offers a vast array of services for the community. Brazilian Services (BCE) are available to students and outside clients. Prices of these services may vary. Services include:

The Payment Processors are solely responsible for handling organizations' payments. You agree not to hold the Philadelphia English Language Institute liable for fees that do not reach us because you have quoted incorrect payment information, or the Payment Processors refused the payment for any other reason. Please note that the Payment Processors may collect personal data, which allows them to process the payments (e.g., credit card details). The Payment Processors handle all the steps in the payment process on their websites, including data collection and data processing. Payments made through Square are subject to a 4% non-refundable processing fee. Wire transfers incur a $50 processing fee.

We act in accordance with the Federal Equal Credit Opportunity Act, which prohibits creditors from discrimination against credit applications concerning any aspect of a credit transaction based on race, color, religion, national birth, sex or marital status or age (provided the applicant can enter into a contract). After we students have obtained acceptance, students should apply for a visa at an American Embassy. Once a visa is approved, students must notify PELI and make the first tuition payment within 5 days.

Enrollment

Students can arrive up to 30 days before the start of class. However, students must report to the school by the date indicated on their acceptance letter.

Upon arrival to Philadelphia, students must report to PELI and:

- Sign student agreement forms
- Attend new student orientation
- Take English placement test
- Make any required enrollment payments

The placement test for IEP is a 70-item, multiple choice test. It consists of a listening/functional language section, a reading section, and a language use section focusing on grammar and vocabulary. The test takes about 60 minutes to complete. Placement test results inform student level placement. Students will be notified of their level by email a few days before the new term starts.

After receiving their level placement results, students will select their elective courses. However, PELI retains the right to choose which elective courses students enroll in based on availability and demand.

Requesting Level Change

If a student wishes to change their designated level after starting their course (either because it is too advanced or too basic for their actual English level), students should meet with the Academic Coordinator to formally request a level change. Level changes can only be made during the first 2 weeks of class. All requests are subject to the Academic Coordinator's discretion.

Teachers may also request a level change for a student if they notice a student may have been misplaced either above or below their academic level.

Maintaining Status

Students must maintain their F-1 visa status with respect to the regulations of US Customs and Immigration Service (USCIS) for the duration of their studies at PELI. Students must:

1. Attend student orientation prior to the start of classes. If you are unable to attend the scheduled orientation, you must arrange for a make-up orientation with the Program Director.
2. Register for a full course of study (at least 18 hours per week).
3. Abide by PELI's Academic Policy and Attendance Policy.
4. Report changes to any of these items to the DSO within 15 days of the change occurring: local address, legal name, source of funding, new passport, or visa. This includes changes to the dependents in addition to the F-1 student.
5. Abide by the PELI Student Code of Conduct. A violation of PELI's Student Code of Conduct may result in a warning, probation, or termination. If a student is terminated due to a violation of PELI's Student Code of Conduct, and the student is not granted an appeal of the termination, the student's status will be terminated in SEVIS.
6. Do not engage in unlawful employment. Rules for F-1 nonimmigrant employment can be found on the Study in the States website.

7. Request a transfer to another SEVP-authorized school prior to stopping your attendance at PELI or within 30 days (not graduating from the highest level offered at PELI) and 60 days of completing your program of study at PELI (graduating from the highest level of the program).

Grounds for Termination of Enrollment

Student's enrollment may be terminated for several reasons, which include:

- failure to comply with the school's rules and policies
- failure to comply with the terms and conditions set forth in the Academic Handbook
- failure to make scheduled payments when due
- failure to maintain required attendance rates
- unresolved Academic Probation

The school may terminate a student's enrollment at any time for such violations. The school further reserves the right to modify the rules and policies in the Academic Handbook, and any such revisions will be posted online at www.pelischool.org.

Course Withdrawal

If a student decides to withdraw their enrollment, he/she must submit a written request. If a student is withdrawing enrollment after entering the US, the student can complete a "Course Withdrawal Form" and submit it to the Administrative Office. If withdrawing before entering the US, the student can submit a written request by email to admissions@pelischool.org. All withdrawals are subject to the school's refund policy.

Transferring into PELI

F-1 students wishing to transfer from a currently SEVIS-approved institution to PELI must provide an official transfer "IEP F-1 Transfer Form". In addition to the completed transfer request form, the student must provide the following:

1. Completed Application
2. Copy of passport
3. Copy of visa stamp
4. Copy of I-94 document (www.cbp.gov/I94)
5. Copy of current I-20 (and any other previous forms)
6. Grade reports/transcripts from the current SEVIS-approved institution if available
7. Financial documentation (same as is listed above under "Admission Criteria") and any other required documentation for dependents

Students transferring into PELI will also be required to pay the application fees (minus SEVIS fee). In addition, students must make the first tuition payment before being granted acceptance to PELI. Once your documents are received, you will receive a letter informing you of whether the transfer has been approved. If approved, a Designated School Official or PDSO will notify the official at your current institution that your I-20 has been authorized for transfer and issue an acceptance letter to your current institution, if required.

Transferring out of PELI

F-1 students currently attending classes at PELI may request a transfer out to another SEVIS-approved institution at any time upon arrival with specific reporting requirements. To complete a transfer-out request, the student must do the following:

1. Provide a transfer request form from the SEVIS-approved institution in which you plan to attend to the PDSO/DSO at PELI. If no transfer form is made available to you, the PDSO/DSO at the center you plan to attend may send an email confirmation indicating that they do not use such forms in their acceptance process.
2. Provide an acceptance letter from the SEVIS-approved institution or ask that the PDSO/DSO at that institution send an email or other documentation to the DSO or PDSO at PELI.

Once these documents are provided to the Director at PELI, the Director and DSO will access your record in SEVIS and initiate the transfer. There is no charge for transferring out of PELI; however, you should refer to the PELI's Refund policies for any charges that may apply to your registration and attendance at the center prior to transferring out. Any pending payments will also need to be made to PELI prior to obtaining approval to transfer out.

Change of Status

Applicants who are in the US under a different visa designation and wish to change their visa status to F-1 should provide the following:

1. Completed Application
2. Copy of passport
3. Copy of visa stamp
4. Copy of I-94 document (www.cbp.gov/I94)
5. Copy of previously issued DS-2019 forms (for J-1 status only)
6. Financial documentation (same as is listed above under "Admission Criteria") and any other required documentation for dependents (must be translated into English)

Applicants requesting a via change of status will also be required to pay the application fees. In addition, students must make the first tuition payment before being granted acceptance to PELI. After receiving PELI acceptance, applicants should file form I-539: <https://www.uscis.gov/i539online>

If the applicant's status change request is granted within the first two weeks of a trimester, the student will be added to the trimester he or she originally applied for. If the status change is granted after the first two weeks of a trimester, the student will be enrolled in the next available trimester.

Application Expiration

Applications (including administrative fees paid to PELI) will remain valid for one year after submission if an I-20 has not been issued. If a student is unable to complete the application process at the time of submission, they will have up to a year before administrative fees expire.

9. Program Completion

Passing Requirements

Students must achieve an average of 75% to pass the course and advance to the next level. Students may take a level no more than 2 times. Students also must successfully complete all assignments and satisfy all financial obligations to the school.

Upon completion of the course, students will receive a certificate. A request for a certificate may be denied by the school if a student does not meet the passing requirements.

Student Evaluations and Report Cards

At the end of each course, students will receive a copy of their report card and an evaluation completed by their teacher detailing the student's progress toward the learning outcomes of that level. The teacher will also make a recommendation as to whether the student is ready to move to the next level.

Program End Date

Upon completion of their program, students must leave the country within 30 days in order to avoid overstaying their visa. However, if a student completes the highest level at PELI, the student will be allowed 60 days after the program end date.

Retention Of Academic Transcripts

The Philadelphia English Language Institute keeps records of academic performance and enrollment. The school will maintain access to academic performance transcripts for three years for immigration and DSO requirements.

No Guarantee Statement

The student understands and agrees that the completion of PELI courses and obtaining a certificate is not a guarantee of employment or admission to a four-year college, community college and/or a career college. PELI has not made any promise to you, express or implied, regarding any opportunities for you following completion of the school. The student understands that each college has its own minimum admission standards, and the diploma and career major certificate may be accepted as meeting the minimum admission standards.

Family Educational Rights And Privacy Act (FERPA)

FERPA provides students who are 18 years of age or older certain rights with respect to their educational records. One of those rights is to deny others access to their educational records. This right remains in effect until a student provides written consent to disclose information in their educational records to others. As a result of FERPA, the student understands that if the student desires any school official to discuss the student's progress with someone other than the student, the student must first provide written consent.

10. Academic Policies

Learning to communicate in another language is hard work. Your program performance will be assessed through exams and speaking assignments. We monitor each student's progress very closely and you will regularly receive feedback and suggestions to improve your performance. Although students will not be given a grade for homework, students are expected to complete homework every day as it is an important part of the learning process.

The following achievement scales apply to the Intensive English Program core curriculum. Elective classes have course-specific assessments and grade breakdowns but follow the same grading scale.

A. Course Grade Breakdown:

Unit Quizzes 12 total, 70 points each	65%
Speaking Evaluations 12 total, 20 points each	15%
Midterm Exam 140 points	10%
Final Exam 140 points	10%
Total	100%

You must have a passing final grade to move to the next level.

B. Grading:

A - Excellent	90-100%
B - Good	80-89%
C - Low	75*-79%
F - Failing	74% and below
*75% is required to pass the course

Accessing Student Grades

Students will be given access to Classe365, which allows students to access their student profile and view their grades and attendance. If students have trouble accessing or need a new password, they should contact the Administrative Office.

Academic Probation & Termination

Students must make satisfactory academic progress in order to maintain their legal immigration status. The minimum standard acceptable grade for an IEP course at the Philadelphia English Language Institute is 75%. If a student's cumulative grade falls below a 75% at the end of a trimester, the student will be placed on Academic Probation for the following trimester and must repeat the level they failed. Students cannot repeat a level more than once. PELI expects that students will make every effort to improve their grades during this trimester of Academic Probation.

Students will receive a written warning if their average is below 75% at the midterm point. If the student's average is below 75% at the time of the final exam, the student will receive an official letter of Academic Probation.

If at the end of the Academic Probation the student has not met the minimum standard acceptable grade, the student will be dismissed on account of not making satisfactory academic progress.

Appeal of Academic Termination

Students have the right to appeal an academic dismissal if they feel that their situations merit individual attention due to unusual circumstances and contributed to their failure of the course(s). The students who wish to appeal must write to the Program Director stating the reason for the appeal prior to the start of the next course. The written appeal must be received within 3 business days of the notification of termination. The letter must state the following:

- The unusual circumstances the student feels caused the failure.
- What she or he has done or plans to do to alleviate the problems she or he had in academic performance.

The Program Director may request additional information or documentation in support of the student's appeal of the termination. The appeal will be reviewed by the Program Director, an Academic Coordinator, and the student's instructor. If the Violation Decision is upheld, an F-1 student will have fifteen (15) days from the date of notification to transfer to another institution or be terminated from PELI and in SEVIS.

11. Attendance Policies

Attendance

Attendance is defined as being present for the regularly scheduled class during the regularly scheduled hours. Attendance is not a component of course grades. However, the school expects students to attend all scheduled classes. Students may not be able to maintain their visa status if they have poor attendance and repeated lateness.

Attendance is closely monitored and is recorded daily. PELI requires all F-1 students to maintain a minimum of 80% attendance throughout the semester. Failure to do so will result in termination of F-1 visa.

Lateness and Early Departures

Late arrival, late return from breaks, and/or early departure all impact daily attendance and contribute to the attendance rate recorded by the instructor.

There is a grace period of 10 minutes for late arrivals. After 10 minutes, a student will be marked "Late". After 30 minutes, a student will be marked "Absent". If a student receives 4 "Late" marks, it is equivalent to an "Absent" mark and will contribute to the student's overall attendance rate.

This policy also applies for early departures. (A student leaving 30 minutes early from class will also be marked as "Absent").

Attendance Warning and Probation Procedures

All F-1 students must maintain a minimum of 80% attendance throughout the semester. If students fall below 80%, they will be terminated from the course and will no longer be in status.

Students will be given several written warnings before reaching an attendance rate that would result in termination. Accumulation of lateness counts towards attendance rates. Attendance warnings will be sent as follows:

- After 5 absences: first warning
- After 10 absences: second warning
- After 12 absences: final warning

If a student has more than 12 absences, they will be terminated from the program. Students can login to their Classe365 profile to check their attendance at any time.

Additionally, if a student misses 10 consecutive class days without any notice to their instructor or to PELI administration, they will automatically be terminated from the program. Students can make an appeal within 5 days of receiving notice of termination.

Appeal of Attendance Probation Procedures

Students have the right to appeal an attendance termination if they feel that their situations merit individual attention due to unusual circumstances and contributed to their attendance issues. The students who wish to appeal must write to the Program Director stating the reason for the appeal prior to the start of the next course. The written appeal must be received within 3 business days of the notification of termination. The letter must state the following:

- The unusual circumstances the student feels caused the failure.
- What she or he has done or plans to do to alleviate the problems she or he had in attendance.

The Program Director may request additional information or documentation in support of the student's appeal of the termination. The appeal will be reviewed by the Program Director, an Academic Coordinator, and the student's instructor. If the Violation Decision is upheld, an F-1 student will have fifteen (15) days from the date of notification to transfer to another institution or be terminated from PELI and in SEVIS.

Make Up Procedures

In the event of an absence, students should see their instructors for missed assignments. It is a student's responsibility to make up for all missed work.

Students have up to a week from a missed test date to make up the grade or they will receive a 0. Students must meet with the teacher to schedule a time outside of class to make up the test.

If a student wants to make up for the class time they missed during an absence (and thereby improve their attendance rate), students can request private tutoring. Tutoring rates for make-up classes follow the same rate as specified above and are offered based on teacher availability. (See page 6) To recover one missed class day (1 absence) students must complete 2 hours of tutoring.

After the first attendance warning, students are limited to recover 2 absences through tutoring. After the second attendance warning, students are limited to recover 4 absences through tutoring. By the final attendance warning, students are not eligible to recover any absences.

Leave Of Absence

A leave of absence (LOA) is a temporary break in study during which time an F student must be out of the United States, but she/he is continuously enrolled. PELI permits a student to request a leave of absence subject to the following conditions:

1. The student must submit a written request form.
 - a. Specify a reason for the leave.
 - b. Provide applicable documentation. Must be in English or translated into English.
 - c. The request must be submitted in advance of the beginning date of the leave of absence unless unforeseen circumstances prevent the student from doing so.
 - d. If a student does not request a leave of absence prior to being absent for more than ten (10) consecutive class days, she/he shall be terminated from the program of study at PELI.
2. A student must report to PELI by the scheduled return date noted on the Leave Request Form or request an extension (if applicable) of the Leave of Absence in writing. If the student does not report on the scheduled return date, the student will be marked absent.

When returning to the United States, students should communicate with their DSO to decide the best date to return. This date must be within 5 months of the students' departure and must coincide with the start of a new trimester. If a student remains outside of the United States for longer than 5 months, they will no longer be in status and will need a new I-20 and a new SEVIS ID before being able to return to the program.

If a student fails to return from a leave of absence (no-show), the student shall be terminated from his/her program of study.

Medical Leave (Reduced Course Load)

A medical leave is a temporary break in study for documented medical purposes during which time an F-1 student remains in the United States and is continuously enrolled with a reduced course load, consistent with federal regulations. If an F-1 student experiences a medical emergency or an illness that interrupts their ability to maintain full-time status, they may request a reduced course load.

In order to be granted a reduced course load, students must provide medical documentation from a licensed doctor or clinical psychologist. The healthcare provider must include the duration of recommended course load reduction and the medical reason for the reduction.

A reduced course load cannot exceed 12 months and can only be processed for one trimester at a time. Students must provide a new letter from a healthcare provider for subsequent trimesters. Students should meet with their DSO for reauthorization of reduced course load at the start of a new trimester.

Student Vacation

F-1 students must complete at least one full academic year (2 consecutive trimesters) to be eligible for annual vacation. A vacation is limited to the equivalent of one session (16 weeks) and cannot be extended. To be granted a vacation, an F-1 student must meet SEVIS requirements for a break in study.

Additionally, students must be enrolled for classes in the academic term immediately following their annual vacation. Before getting approval for vacation, PELI requires students to make the first payment of the trimester that follows their vacation term. Payment must be made before the student completes their second trimester of study.

If a student is placed on Academic Probation, he or she is not eligible to take a vacation.

12. Student Code of Conduct

Students are expected to follow school regulations and help maintain a professional learning environment through orderly, ethical, and respectful behavior. The Program Director may recommend that the offender be (1) warned, (2) placed on probation, or (3) terminated from the school.

The student agrees that it is his or her responsibility to abide by the policies defined by the school and answer to respect and to obey school directives issued by a supervisor or manager. The following are examples of violations that would subject a student to dismissal:

- All types of dishonesty, including cheating*, plagiarism, knowingly furnishing false information to the school or about the school, forgery, alteration, or use of school documents with intent to defraud

It is a working environment that is free of inappropriate behavior of all kinds and harassment because of age, disability, marital status, race or color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation or gender identity.
- Engaging in such behaviors directly, condoning or encouraging others to do so, transmitting or initiating such conduct via online, email, on school grounds, in class or at school-sponsored events will not be tolerated.
- Students caught defacing or destroying school property will be required to pay restitution and face disciplinary actions including suspension or expulsion from the program.

13. Additional Policies

Non-Discrimination Policies

The Philadelphia English Language Institute will never deny admissions to anyone on the basis of (nor conduct activities with regard to) race, religion, age, creed, color, sex, physical challenge, veteran status, marital status, sexual preference, or national origin.

PELI is dedicated to diversity, inclusion, respect, and civility and to the highest standards of personal development and performance. We place the highest value on friendship, scholarship, integrity, and responsibility. We are committed to honoring the individual in our community, where members respect and celebrate the diversity of our students, families, faculty administration, and staff. Our policies and procedures have been established for safety, to support our learning and teaching environment, and to maintain the highest standards and behavior.

Whether or not discrimination or harassment exists depends on circumstances or facts surrounding an incident. For this reason, it is not possible to provide a complete list of conduct that constitutes discrimination or harassment. The following are examples of conduct that may be prohibited by this policy: unwelcome requests for a physical, dating, or personal relationship; offensive jokes, remarks, epithets, or taunts related to a protected characteristic; speech, or action, or the display of material that is demeaning, degrading, threatening, or shows hostility to an individual or group because of a protected characteristic mentioned above; and unwelcome physical contact, demand for sexual favors in exchange for favorable or preferential treatment.

If you believe you have been harassed or discriminated against, take one or more of the following actions as soon as possible:

1. Tell the offending person or people that you want the offending speech or actions stopped. Do not apologize. Speak directly. Give a clear message about how you feel.
2. If you do not feel comfortable confronting the person alone, take a friend along.
3. Tell a staff member or the Program Director.

You should not be afraid to make a complaint or report what you honestly consider to be discrimination or harassment because of fear of reprisal or getting another person in trouble. Retaliation or threats of retaliation against anyone who makes a complaint of discrimination or harassment, or against anyone who participates in an investigation of any such complaint, is a violation of the PELI policy and may be a further cause of disciplinary action.

14. Health Care

Information about healthcare in the U.S.

US Healthcare is a combination of privately funded and publicly funded programs. In the US, medical care can be very expensive. If you don't have health insurance, you must pay for all medical expenses "out of pocket", which means you pay for everything yourself, with no help from the healthcare provider (i.e. hospital) or the government. Even if you do have health insurance, there will be out of pocket expenses that you must pay.

It is appropriate to ask your doctors questions, and even to get second opinions. If you don't understand something a doctor says, ask for it to be repeated or ask for an interpreter. It is always a good idea to keep copies of your medical reports.
