MIRACLETOX ANGELTO

RELIEVE. REBUILD. REPLENISH. COMFORT FOR SENSITIVE SKIN.

MIRACLETOX LIGHT ANGELTO CREAM

Relieve. Rebuild. Replenish.

An incredible cream for dry, itchy, sensitive and barrier-compromised skin, or just anyone who prioritises barrier strength and resilience.

Angelto Cream is designed for the skin that needs a little extra care — the skin that feels tight after cleansing, itchy when dry, reactive to the weather, uncomfortable after showering, or simply unable to hold moisture for long.

Powered by MGW Oil, Chamaecyparis Obtusa Water 47%, seaweed extracts and ferment-based hydration, Angelto creates a soft moisturising shield over the skin to help restore comfort and support a healthier-looking barrier.

WHY ANGELTO EXISTS

FOR SKIN THAT IS ASKING FOR COMFORT

Not every client comes to you asking for “barrier repair.”

More often, they say things like:

- “My skin feels itchy.”
- “My child’s skin is so dry.”
- “My face feels tight and uncomfortable.”
- “My body skin is rough and flaky.”
- “Everything seems to irritate my skin.”
- “I moisturise, but it never lasts.”

Angelto was created for exactly this kind of skin.

It is not an aggressive active cream. It is not a peel, a resurfacer or a quick-fix product. Angelto is a comfort cream a daily face and body moisturiser designed to help dry, sensitive and fragile-feeling skin feel calmer, softer, better protected and repaired.

Think of it as the cream you reach for when the skin needs to be soothed before it can be corrected.

WHAT IS ANGELTO CREAM

A MOISTURE SHIELD FOR FACE AND BODY

MIRACLETOX Light Angelto Cream is a soft, mild, highly moisturising cream created for both facial and body use. It is suitable for morning and evening use, helping to soothe, smooth and protect skin. Perfect to be applied on top of any skin routine or used on its own.

Its main purpose is simple:

- To help dry skin feel more comfortable.
- To support the skin barrier.
- To reduce the feeling of itching caused by dryness.
- To leave rough, sensitive skin feeling smoother and more nourished.

Angelto is especially useful for therapists because it speaks to a very common client need: skin comfort.

Many clients want brighter, firmer, smoother skin — but if their barrier is compromised, the first priority is often to calm, moisturise and rebuild resilience. Angelto fits beautifully into that part of the journey.

THE SKIN BARRIER STORY

WHEN THE BARRIER IS WEAK, SKIN FEELS EVERYTHING

The outer layer of the skin, the stratum corneum, works like a protective wall. When that wall is strong, the skin holds moisture well and is better able to defend itself from external stress.

When that wall becomes weakened, moisture escapes more easily. The skin may then feel dry, tight, rough, itchy or reactive.

Healthy barrier function depends on the outer skin layer and the lipid structure between dead skin cells. When that lipid structure weakens, moisture evaporates more easily and external aggressors can penetrate, worsening dryness and discomfort.

This is why barrier care matters so much.

A client may think they need exfoliation because their skin is flaky. They may think they need stronger actives because their skin looks dull. But very often, the skin is simply asking for moisture, protection and calm.

Angelto helps therapists answer that need.

WHAT'S INSIDE ANGELTO

The ingredients that make it special

MGW Oil is the hero ingredient story behind Angelto Cream. Mealworm oil and Oxya sinuosa oil is rich in protein, unsaturated fatty acids, vitamins B3 and B5, and essential amino acids. These components help support the skin's moisturised, nourished and supple appearance.

Chamaecyparis Obtusa Water 47% This is one of the most important ingredients in Angelto, supporting moisturising, skin protection and itching reduction. For therapists, this gives Angelto a calming, nature-led identity — a cream designed to comfort skin that feels hot, dry, irritated or unsettled.

Four Seaweed Extracts Angelto contains Undaria Pinnatifida, Porphyra Tenera, Laminaria Japonica and Enteromorpha Compressa extracts, these are linked with moisturising and helping ease itching caused by heat.

Natural Ferment Complex Fermented rice, soybean, ginseng root, potato and Coix lacryma-jobi ma-yuen seed ferment filtrates help support Angelto's moisturising and skin-conditioning story.

HOW DOES IT WORK

Angelto works like a comfort blanket for the skin

Angelto Cream works by surrounding dry, fragile-feeling skin with moisture and comfort.

It helps in three key ways:

1. It moisturises

Ingredients such as glycerin, butylene glycol, trehalose, panthenol, sodium hyaluronate and shea butter support hydration and softness. The Miracletox ingredient list confirms Angelto contains these moisturising and conditioning ingredients, alongside MGW Oil, Chamaecyparis Obtusa Water, seaweed extracts and ferment ingredients.

2. It helps reduce moisture loss

Dry skin often struggles to hold water. Angelto helps create a moisturising film, supporting the feeling of longer-lasting hydration and comfort.

3. It supports the barrier

When skin is dry, rough or itchy from dryness, barrier support is essential. Angelto helps soften the skin surface, reduce the feeling of tightness and improve the overall comfort of fragile-feeling skin.

The texture also matters. The Angelto materials describe it as a soft, mild, highly concentrated moisturising cream with a natto-like stretch, designed to increase the moisturising feel without clumping.

WHO IS IT FOR

The client who needs Angelto

Angelto is ideal for clients who say their skin feels dry, uncomfortable, itchy from dryness, sensitive, easily irritated or clients who prioritise barrier health.

The Angelto materials recommend it for those with a damaged stratum corneum, those wanting to soothe skin irritated by external factors, those wanting to ease itching caused by dryness, those wanting to improve the skin barrier, and those who find conventional emulsions are not enough for their dry skin. It is also recommended for clients seeking low-irritation, highly moisturising care and for dry, sensitive skin.

Best client types

- Dry facial skin
- Dry body skin
- Sensitive skin
- Rough or flaky skin
- Skin that feels tight after showering
- Skin that becomes itchy when dry
- Clients who overuse actives
- Clients recovering from barrier stress
- Clients who need a simple comfort product
- Menopausal Skin
- Problematic Skin
- Aging Skin

Angelto is especially easy to recommend because it is not limited to one area. It can be used on the face and body, making it practical for real client routines.

THE CLINICAL RESULTS

The results practioners need to know

Angelto Cream was clinically evaluated by the Korean Skin Research Center on 21 female volunteers aged 20–55 with dry and itchy skin. Participants used the cream twice a day for 2 weeks, morning and evening.

Skin moisture increased by 67%

After 2 weeks, skin moisture content increased significantly by 67% compared with before use. The Angelto chart shows moisture content rising from 22.83 before use to 38.05 after 2 weeks.

This is a strong result for clients who feel like their skin never stays moisturised.

Transdermal moisture loss reduced by 20%

The amount of moisture escaping from the skin was reduced by 20% after 2 weeks. The chart shows transdermal moisture loss decreasing from 12.62 before use to 10.11 after 2 weeks

For therapists, this supports Angelto's barrier-care positioning.

Itching caused by dryness reduced by 61.46%

The self-assessed degree of itching caused by skin dryness was reduced by 61.46% after 2 weeks of use. The score reduced from 5.19 before use to 2.00 after 2 weeks.

This is one of Angelto's most powerful professional messages: it helps clients whose skin feels itchy because it is dry.

WHAT CLIENTS FELT

The clinical results go beyond hydration numbers. They also show how Angelto helped improve the way dry, itchy skin affected daily comfort.

After 2 weeks, 61.90% of respondents answered that they were “not itchy at all.” A further 28.57% said they were much better but still slightly itchy. No respondents reported being more itchy or seeing no difference.

The sleep data is especially compelling. Before use, around 95% of subjects said itching affected their sleep. After 2 weeks, this dropped to around 19%. The table also shows that after 2 weeks, 80.95% answered “not itchy at all” in relation to sleep impact.

Daily life also improved. Before use, 100% of participants said itch symptoms affected their daily life. After 2 weeks, this reduced to about 48%.

HOW TO USE IT IN PRACTICE

Simple, useful, easy to recommend

Angelto is designed to be easy for clients to understand and easy to use.

How clients should use it

Apply morning and evening to clean skin.

Use on the face, body or both.

Can be used on top of a current skincare routine or as a stand alone product.

Apply more generously to areas that feel dry, tight, rough or itchy from dryness.

Use consistently for 2 weeks to experience the best comfort and hydration results.

For body areas, Angelto is especially lovely after bathing or showering, when the skin is clean and slightly damp. For facial use, it can be applied as a moisturising step.

How therapists can use it

Use Angelto at the end of calming, restorative or barrier-focused treatments. It is ideal after gentle facials where the goal is comfort, hydration and skin recovery.

It is also a useful retail recommendation for clients who are not ready for strong actives, or whose skin needs rebuilding before progressing to more corrective skincare.

Precaution Angelto is not recommended for those with shellfish allergy.

Therapists should also avoid applying over open wounds, weeping skin, bleeding cracks or suspected infection. Clients with severe or diagnosed skin conditions should be advised to consult a healthcare professional.

Why therapists love Angelto

Because it solves a real client problem.

Not every client needs more stimulation.

Not every skin needs more actives.

Not every concern begins with correction.

Sometimes the skin needs comfort first.

Angelto Cream gives therapists a beautiful way to support dry, sensitive, itchy-from-dryness and barrier-compromised skin with a formula that feels nurturing, professional and easy to understand.

It helps the client feel more comfortable in their skin and that is often the first step toward every other result.
