The Skin IQ Test helps uncover the hidden internal factors that may be affecting how your skin looks and feels – from hormones and stress to nutrition and inflammation.

Whether you're struggling with breakouts, dryness, dullness, premature ageing, or simply want a healthier glow, this test provides valuable insights to help you make smarter skincare, nutrition, and lifestyle choices.

A comprehensive analysis of key biomarkers, including hormones, vitamins, inflammation, thyroid function, and nutritional status, with a personalised Functional Medicine doctor's report to help identify the root causes affecting your skin and overall health.
