

Alazz Entertainment Presents

The WANDERER'S GUIDE

to
NARROW PINES

August 19-22, 2021

A Note From The Writer

Hello!

On behalf of myself and the company, I want to thank you for attending our show! This work means a great deal to me, not only because it's the first piece of my own writing I'm putting out into the public, but also because of the tremendous amount of work, effort, support, and love put into its creation.

"The Wanderer's Guide to Narrow Pines" is a mystery/fiction audio-drama series currently in the works for future development. This pilot episode's exclusive release is to help get a feel for how the show can progress and refine in the future.

I want to thank all the incredible actors, musicians, and supporters who have helped so far on this journey. A big thank you to Fringe North for hosting our show and giving us the opportunity to share it.

And the biggest of thank you's to you, the audience!

We hope you enjoy!

-Alexandria McCauley

ALAZZ

ENTERTAINMENT

Alazz is an Entertainment company based in Canada, devoted to nurturing the talents and creative minds of young and up & coming artists. We strive to produce cutting-edge theatre, new works, different art forms, and promoting the true magic of the arts.

We thoroughly enjoyed our time at Fringe back in 2017 with "The Drowning Girls".

We are very excited about our return to Fringe North with:

"The Wanderer's Guide to Narrow Pines".

Selected credits include: (Acting) 'An Ordeal', Theatre 503; 'The Expense of Simplicity', The Etcetera Camden; 'BLANK', The Lyric Hammersmith and Orange Tree Theatre; 'Alice in Winterland', Rose Theatre Kingston. (Directing) 'Othello', Rose Theatre Kingston; 'Nell Gwynn', The Jane Ross Theatre

Playing:
Officer John Kennedy

Rob Rock

(he/him)

Rob Rock was excited to be asked to play the role of Officer Kennedy as he feels he has the perfect face for radio.

Rob can usually be found in the darkness behind a lighting console. Rob caught the theatre bug in grade 5 playing the Dan in the Beatles song Rocky Raccoon. In high school, he tried his hand at every position in the theatre but found that he shined at lighting. He offered his talents to two high schools. After his first year of university, he took a break to finish his schooling. In 2001 the bug bit him once again as he was watching his daughter rehearse for the Music Comedy Guild's production of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat. He offered his services to the producer and ended up designing and running the lights for that show. Since then Rob has lit over 100 stage productions in Sault Ste Marie as well as many concerts, fashion shows, fundraisers and even a wedding or two. Rob was given the nickname of the Prince of Darkness by a very special friend and to honour that friendship he has called his lighting company POD Lighting and Effects. Rob has been involved with Fringe North since its inception in 2016 but this is the first production for fringe he has acted in.

Playing:
Ethan Oleander

Erik Dagoberg
(he/him)

Erik Dagoberg is an Acting major at the University of Michigan, and will be playing Ethan Oleander in "The Wanderer's Guide to Narrow Pines."

In his spare time, Erik loves to play guitar, frolic and try and stay sane in these weird, weird times.

Erik plays Arthur Graye in the podcast "Dorks in Distress" along with Alex, Jenna and Charles.

Stay safe, grow, learn, listen, respond, and enjoy the show!

Dr. Gene McCauley
(he/him)

Playing:
Mr. Roberts

This is Dr. Gene McCauley's acting debut! He is very happy to be supporting his daughter on her show.
