Author's Note / Nota de la Autora

Irma L. Hersel — Author of her first bilingual children's book, Where Nopalitos Grow, and her newest title, Where Chocolate Grows

Thank you for sharing Where Chocolate Grows with your students and readers! This story was inspired by my love for family, culture, and the small wonders of nature — like the tiny midge that makes chocolate possible.

Through these pages, I hope children discover that learning can be sweet, just like chocolate. Every flower, tree, and word connects us to the world around us — and reminds us that curiosity and kindness can grow anywhere.

With every book I write, my goal is to celebrate bilingual learning, imagination, and connection across cultures.

May these activities spark creativity and joy in your classroom or home!

Con cariño,

Irma L. Hersel
