When students feel they are victims of bullying, including discriminatory actions towards them, they need to inform a staff member, the Vice Principal, or the Principal. The administration will contact the parents. Depending on the nature, frequency and severity of the situation:

- The victim may receive coaching in using a pro-active response to the bully(ies)’s behaviour.

- Bringing information into a test/exam (i.e. cheat sheets, writing on desks, clothing, body parts etc.) the staff member supervising is not aware of.

Our Expectations:

- Students are expected to remove caps, hoodies and other esthetic headgear when in class, at the staff member's discretion, or in any formal function (assemblies, meetings, etc.).

- Students are expected to wear appropriate footwear that is safe for the classroom setting and season.

DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

Statement of Purpose:

- Students will recognize that using drugs and/or alcohol will have a negative effect on their education.
- Students will recognize that the presence of drugs and/or alcohol in the building has a negative impact on school culture and on student learning.

- Students will learn about the different counselors that are available to help with drugs and alcohol issues.

Our Expectations:

- Students will not bring drugs or drug paraphernalia or alcohol to school.
- Students will not be under the influence of drugs or alcohol while at school.
- Students will not wear clothing that promotes, in any way, drugs or alcohol.
- Students will not sell drugs or alcohol.

Consequences:

Involvement with drugs, drug paraphernalia and/or alcohol at school is a serious matter and will have serious consequences for students who are found in possession of drugs or alcohol.

The Supreme Court of Canada handed down a judgment in 1998 that reaffirmed the right of teachers and school administrators to carry out searches of students and/or their locker when there are reasonable grounds to suspect that a law has been broken, including suspicion that drugs/alcohol may be found. If any banned substance is found, then consequences will be serious and swift. Refusal by a student to be searched or to have their locker searched is, in the eyes of the law, an admission of guilt.

If, during the search, banned substances are found in a quantity that would indicate personal use, the following protocol takes place:

- The student is suspended for up to five school days.
- The student's parents are informed.
- Banned substances are confiscated, catalogued and sealed.
- The Police are informed, and arrangements are made for the materials to be delivered to the Police.
- The Police will open a file. Parents and students will be contacted.

At the end of the suspension, the student will return to school with their parents. The student must take part in the Better Choices Program from the Fraser Recovery Program for the minimal amount of time (six weeks).

If the quantity of drugs or paraphernalia found in a student's possession is of a sufficient quantity that would indicate the trafficking (possession for selling) of drugs, then the student will face the following sanctions:

- The student is suspended for up to five days.
- The school administration makes a recommendation to the Board for the expulsion of the student.
- The Police are informed, and a criminal file is opened.

Expectations for student conduct for younger students differ from those for older students as they do for students with special needs who are unable to meet expectations due to a disability. It is expected as students move through successive grades, become older and more mature that they will be more socially responsible.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES

Statement of purpose:

School is a place to learn for all students. Electronic devices provided by the school are used to enrich, expand, and explore in the classroom. The appropriate use of digital tools will help foster life-long skills for all students. Utilizing electronic devices is a privilege that comes with expectations, rules and consequences.

Our expectations:

- Staff members have a fundamental right to privacy during the performance of their duties. Students must not film or record any staff member without explicit authorization. This applies to any activity, whether it's in person or online.
- The classroom is a cellphone free zone for students. Personal electronic devices are a distraction due to the variety of applications and notifications. This means that no personal handheld electronic device is to be used by students during class time, unless specified by the teacher. Students are expected to leave all personal handheld electronic devices in their lockers or in the device holders in the classroom. This includes personal cellphones, headphones (big and small), tablets, smart watches, or any device with Bluetooth capabilities. Should such a personal item be brought to class, the staff will apply the following.

First offense = The student's device is confiscated until the end of the day. The staff member who observes the misuse brings it to the office and the device is given back at the end of the day.

Second and subsequent offenses = A drop off plan is applied for one week (5 school days). The student must drop off the device at the office in the morning and pick it up at the end of the day. Parents have the option to keep the device at home during that time.

RESPONSES TO BEHAVIOUR ISSUES

The following includes examples of misconduct, and the possible consequences students may face depending on the severity of their actions. All staff members are responsible for signaling infractions to the Code of Conduct.
