A full-page photograph of a bathroom vanity. The vanity consists of blue cabinets with a shaker-style design. The upper section has four cabinet doors arranged in a 2x2 grid, and the lower section has four drawers arranged in a 2x2 grid. All cabinets and drawers are equipped with long, horizontal gold handles. The vanity is topped with a white marble countertop that has subtle grey veining. On the left and right sides of the countertop are white rectangular sinks. Each sink is fitted with a gold faucet and two gold side handles. Above each sink is a large rectangular mirror with a thick gold frame. Above the mirrors are gold-colored light fixtures with a modern, curved design. The background wall is covered in white horizontal shiplap planks. The word 'FINISHES' is written in a white, serif, all-caps font, with a large, elegant cursive script 'f' preceding it, all centered at the top of the image.

CHERRY

Noted for its rich, dark, reddish-brown color, cherry has a smooth, closed grain pattern that can contain pin knots, mineral streaking, and curly graining. With age, the finish on cherry cabinets will mellow to a rich, darker tone. This will be more noticeable in lighter stain finishes.

HICKORY

Hickory is known for its strength, open grain and distinctive color variation. Ranging from light to deep brown, hickory's unpredictable color spread (referred to as calico) is more noticeable in natural or lighter stains with darker stains mellowing the variation.

QUARTERSAWN WHITE OAK

Quartersawn White Oak tends to be darker than red oak due to the mix of browns and tans in it with various shades of light to dark wood. Quartersawn refers to the way the wood has been cut from the log at a different angle (quartered). This creates a more consistent, tighter graining and adds Medullary rays or flecking.

RUSTIC WOOD

Rustic wood feature character marks such as solid and open knots, worm holes, mineral streaks, pitch pockets, bird's eye, or bark pockets. These characteristics will vary from wood species, color, as well as, size, shape, and form. The amount of character marks can vary from each piece of wood making each kitchen unique. Wellborn Forest offers rustic oak, rustic maple and rustic hickory.

GLAZES ON PAINT

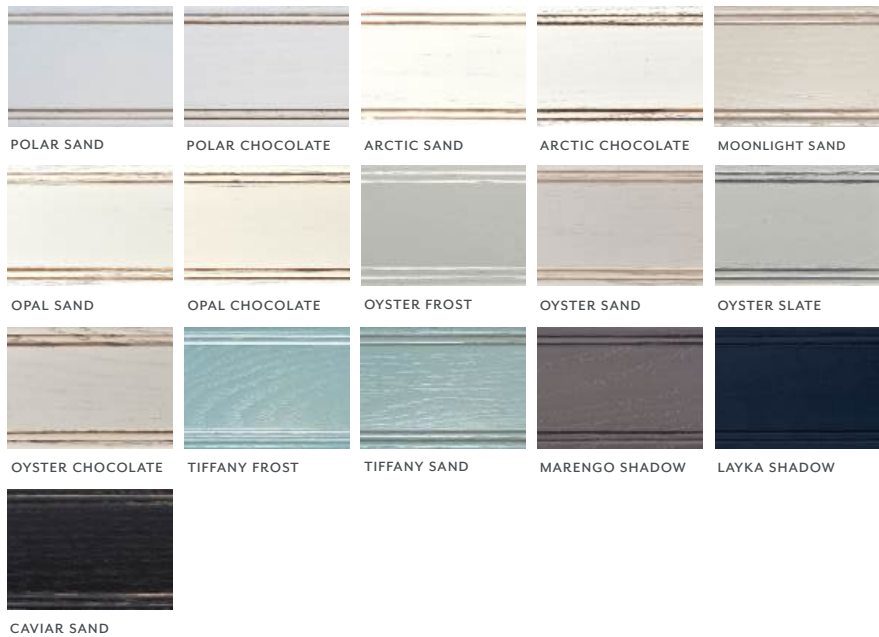

Glazing is an artistic, hand-finished process that adds depth and dimension to paints. A glaze is applied to the painted surface, then hand-wiped to give it a subtle hued finish creating hang-up of varying tones in detail areas. Our paint glazes range from white (frost) to grey (slate) and dark brown (chocolate) to black (shadow).

BRUSHED GLAZES

Brushed finishes are an all over hand-wiped glaze with subtle brush strokes applied on the entire door, drawer, and cabinet frame. The brushed glaze provides a unique appearance to each piece and will vary from one surface to the next.
