White Rift Oak x Cloud White

Modern, natural and warm, our White Rift Oak cabinets on the Hudson door are the epitome of luxury. First, veneers are meticulously selected and then rift cut to accentuate the linear grain prevalent in the wood. Then the pieces are wire-brushed which involves hand-scraping the wood with a metal brush to reveal the soft grain from the growth ring of the tree.

Southampton Door Style White Rift Oak

The inherent quality of our Southampton White Rift Oak is eloquently manifested in the meticulous design of this kitchen. The choice of light oak flooring ensures a judicious balance, complementing the door panels with a nuanced interplay of wood grain patterns, offering a visually captivating experience. The strategic arrangement of varied light sources orchestrates a layered narrative, guiding observers through the space seamlessly. The pendant light above the island serves as a focal point, establishing a refined ambiance that resonates with the subtle brown tones in the white marble countertop, creating a harmonious dialogue with the intricate veining patterns shared between the marble and the White Rift Oak. The deliberate positioning of small lights serves to illuminate every facet, unveiling the intricate details and tonal richness of the White Rift Oak. Notably, the discreet integration of White Rift Oak door panels conceals the hood, ensuring a harmonious aesthetic of visual discord.

Our Advantage

■ Quality Lumber

We select quality lumber specifically for our cabinets, ensuring that our products are dependable and can be enjoyed for many years to come. It provides a solid foundation for various kitchen projects, bathroom projects, and other crafting endeavors, ensuring long-lasting, visually pleasing, and reliable results. The precision milling and dimensioning of quality lumber make it easier to work with during cabinet construction or other relevant projects.

■ Uncompromising Finish

Once we select premium quality lumber, we meticulously match and sand each piece. The material then undergoes a multi-step finishing process that ends with the application of a catalyzed conversion topcoat to prevent scratching and improve longevity. During every stage of the manufacturing process, our products undergo a thorough evaluation to guarantee that the end product is immaculate.

■ Superior Construction

Every cabinet we produce features dovetail construction and is built to last. First, premium quality plywood side panels interlock with the solid wood face frame through matching dovetail grooves. Then, a solid half-inch piece of plywood is utilized for the back to ensure stability and a long-lasting structure. Finally, wood corner braces are screwed into plywood beams to tie the entire structure together.

■ Ever-lock Shelf

Our solid plywood shelves are designed with durability in mind and will never move from their desired location due to our ever-lock system. This system features stainless steel clips that lock into pre-drilled holes in the bottom of the shelf. This prevents movement and ensures the sturdiness of the shelf and overall structure of the cabinet.

■ Fluid Movements

Smooth-closing doors and drawers come standard on every cabinet we manufacture. Our compact hinges are adjustable and feature impeccable functionality while our full-extension drawers maximize storage and feature gentle but fluid motion.

■ Transitional Full Overlay Design

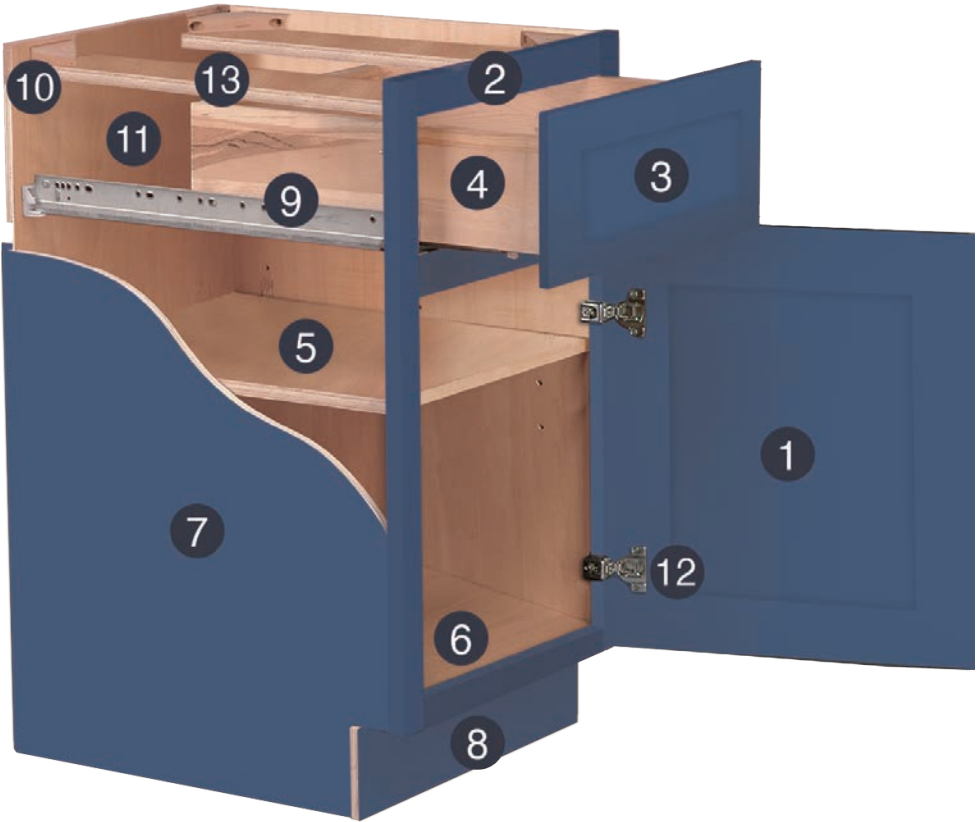

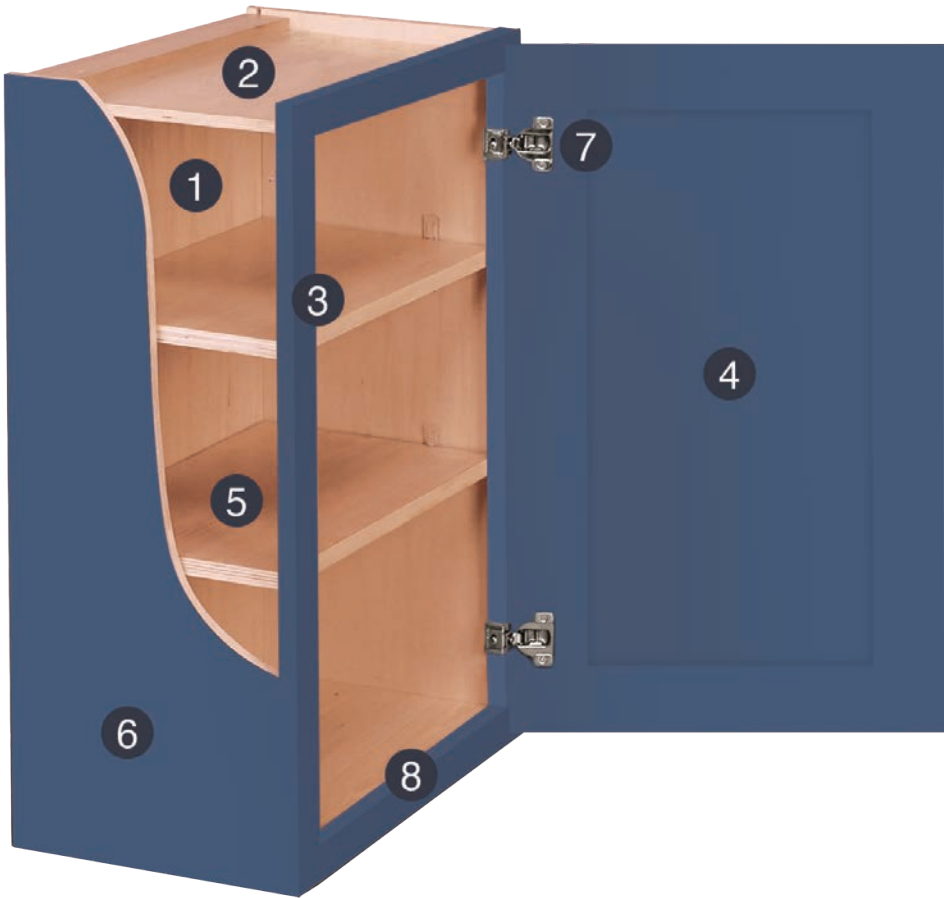

Our transitional full overlay doors almost completely cover the face frame and create a pristine and clean appearance.
