

When To Call The Vet

You should contact the vet if your dog exhibits any unusual behavior, such as:

1. Constipation or straining to urinate
2. Coughing or sneezing
3. Difficulty breathing or prolonged panting
4. Dramatic increase in appetite for 24 hours or more
5. Excessive drinking of water
6. Excessive sleeping or unusual lack of activity
7. Fainting
8. Increased restlessness
9. Limping, holding, or protecting part of the body
10. Loss of appetite for 24 hours or more
11. Loss of balance, falling, or staggering
12. Persistent scratching at their eyes or ears
13. Runny nose or eyes
14. Shivering
15. Thick discharge from ears, eyes, nose, or sores
16. Vomiting, diarrhea, or excessive urination for more than 12 hours
17. Weight loss
18. When the dogs gums are white
19. Whining for no apparent reason