Texas Make It With Wool

A VIRTUAL Festival for 2020: Texas Fleece & Fiber Virtual Festival

After much back and forth, we decided to make Texas Fleece & Fiber Fest a virtual festival this year. This is in response to other state fiber festivals who, like us, knew that with careful planning we could still have a stellar event. What does this mean for our contestants?

CONTESTANTS

- Fill out the forms as usual. Fees still apply since we will still be testing fabric, fiber and yarn.
- Mail all garments/entry forms to: Kathy Mews (address)
- You have two options: send us a 90 second video telling us about your garment. Low resolution will suffice, but you may also arrange for a video chat on Saturday, November 14, 2020.
- We will set up a mock runway scenario per age category so please provide us with a brief description of your piece that we can use for the LIVE facebook video. You only need to explain what we are looking at, what moved you to make your design and/or what inspired you.
- Please adhere to the rules as always because 2021 we will be back in Kerrville. If this is a successful Virtual experience then we will incorporate this feature in to next years in-person variation.

- DO NOT share your garments or design efforts on social media.

NOTE: The 90 second video is important. Adults! If you win the competition you may use the video you made to submit to Nationals. For other ages, this is an opportunity to see your design in a different way. Interviews are essential to your success in the future. Find your voice and your confidence with Texas Make It With Wool!
