

LESSON 9

Fire Ceremony 🔥

Archetype Medicine for the Chakras.

The great archetypes of the Munay Ki tradition are organizing principles of the Universe. They are the forces that we call to create sacred space and they are the Energy Beings that have been planted as seeds in each of your chakras. It is important to remember that you have received them as seeds, they are pure potential - it is your own engagement with them and your relationship with them that will grow them into the powerful forces that inform your chakras in new ways. That is why you do the fire ceremonies, to grow these seeds with fire.

Take time after each fire ceremony to source yourself from the archetype in each chakra, see your world from that perspective, so that you get your own sense of connection to each archetype. Instead of being exclusively informed by our histories and by our cultural prescriptions, these organizing principles of the Universe begin to organize our energy centers.

After every rite, we will perform a Fire Ceremony to embed the seeds of the rite into our energy field and support its growth.

Preparation

Open sacred medicine space by invoking the energies and powers of all the directions.

Light a candle(s) and sit before it.

If you are outside and it is safe and permissible, light your fire. Be aware of any fire bans in your country, and ensure you thoroughly douse the fire before you leave.

You can use your cauldron if you have one.

Open sacred space for yourself.

Next open your space around the flame.

Allow a few moments in meditation, offer to the flame all that has come up as a result of the last initiation or fire ceremony, for purification.

Now you are ready to begin Growing the seeds

- Connect with the Rite you wish to grow the seeds for. Connect with its qualities and its gifts you may wish to visualize the entire initiation process of the Rite.
- Now, take from the flame the light and warmth into your hands as if you were holding a golden orb.
- Place this orb of light into each of your centers (the ones relevant to the rite you are working with), one by one, start to grow the seed. Feel the power of the light and the warmth accepted and embraced by the seed of the Rite.
- Allow the power of the Rite to expand and grow within you.

- Finally, weave the fire's warmth and light over your crown and into and through your entire energy field.
- Know that through the light and warmth offered at the fire ceremony, the seed is grown and strengthened within you until you fully claim and live the power of the Rite. Then the fire ceremony is used to maintain and balance the powers you hold

Note

- You can work the fire into your centers and your energy body after you visualize the entire Rite you are working on. Or
- You can bring the fire into each center as you visualize the Rite. In this case you are visualizing each stage of the Rite and weaving the fire into that particular center before moving to the next stage.

Conclusion

Finally, once you have finished the Fire Ceremony for all the rites you wish to work with, it is essential that you Close your personal sacred space and Close sacred medicine space.
